BRITISH CLEAN UP REMAINING REBELS IN OLD JERUSALEM

Prisoners Sent to Concentration Camp on Mountain Where Once Stood Palace of King Herod.

OBSERVERS LOOK TO EARLY PEACE

Arabs Outside of City May Be Disheartened by Successive Defeats.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 20.—(P)—Small groups of Arab prisoners, rounded up and disarmed in the British occupation of the old city section of Jerusalem, were herded today into a concentration camp on the site of Herod's palace.

The Holy Land lapsed into an ominous uneasy peace while the Coldstream Guards regiment continued poking into the dark recesses of the old city to clean out the last vestiges of rebel rule.

The occupation started at dawn yesterday after Arab snipers held most of the old city for four days against the superior show of British armed force.

Arabs Bide Their Time.
The lack of major incidents elsewhere in Palestine led to a general belief that Arab insurgents in other sections were biding their time and awaiting results of military measures in Jerusalem.

Authorities directing the operations of 20,000 British soldiers hastened plans for occupation of all areas ruled by the rebels, including Bethlehem, birthplace of Christ.

Some observers believed the country might be brought back to near-normal condition within a month if the present pace of the "reconquest" were maintained.

It will be a tremendous task, for the rebel command, headed by General Abdul Haj Mohammed, has forced the headmen of all Arab villages to list able-bodied males for conscription, giving the irregulars a reserve force of somewhere between 20,000 to 30,000 men.

German-Trained Leader.
Hal Mohammed, a former Turkish army officer trained in the old Imperial German army, entered Palestine secretly six months ago.

Arab nationalism is blazing as never before in the east. As a symbol, leaders have ordered all Arab males to wear the "kaffiyeh and gal" (national headress) to distinguish themselves from Jews and foreigners.

Sporadic sniping kept the populace terrorized tonight.

"Duck your head—stoop low," were the repeated admonitions of British guards as bullets whistled overhead.

Beside the danger from gunfire, the Holy City's residents are still suffering acutely from shortage of food. Municipal authorities and local benevolent institutions distribute free rations, but many still are hungry.

Beggars importuned for alms. Those who could not speak English pointed to their mouths or stomachs.

LABOR PEACE PREDICTED.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—(P)—Industrial and labor leaders tonight forecast labor peace would come to San Francisco by Monday, ending months of industrial strife.

Sikora Says Wife Jilted Him for Toy

Crowd Roars as 'Model Husband' Tells Her Preference for Panda.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(P)—Rudolph Sikora, pale and poker faced, told a jury hearing his murder trial today his attractive wife had termed him a "perfect husband" only a few weeks before she deserted him.

From the witness stand in a crowded courtroom, he related how her ardor cooled during the period when she shifted her love to Edward Solomon—the rival Sikora confessed he killed.

"She started to repulse me," the defendant said. "When I tried to put my arms around her, she pushed me away."

He recalled he asked her bluntly one night why she "avoided" him. He added:

"Suddenly, she said, 'Rudy, what do you say we call it quits?' I asked, 'Margaret, do you know what you're saying? Have I been mean or unkind?' 'No,' she said, 'You've been very good to me.'"

Sikora recalled Solomon had given his wife a toy panda—a fluffy teddy bear.

He admitted he was sometimes

'DOING MY DUTY TO FATHERLAND,' FRAULEIN QUOTED

Frightened-Eyed Girl Weeps as 'Confession' of Spy Messenger Service Is Read to Jurors.

ACTED AS COURIER OF DEFENSE DATA

Her Statement Tells of $1,000 Offer for Plans of Aircraft Carriers.

Pictures in Page 11.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(P)—A frightened-eyed German girl, Fraulein Johanna ("Jenni") Hoffman, 26, alleged "payoff" agent of a German spy ring, wept today as a statement was read in federal court quoting her as saying she helped steal American military secrets because "I believed I was doing my duty to my fatherland."

The statement, described by Assistant United States Attorney Lester C. Dunigan as a "confession," quoted Miss Hoffman as admitting she acted as a courier of purloined United States army and navy secrets to her superiors in Germany.

Loses Poise.
As the alleged confession was read, the smiling German girl lost her poise for the first time and dabbed nervously at her lips with a handkerchief. Her eyes brimmed with tears when the phrase "duty to my fatherland" was read.

The statement, introduced over the shouted protests of Miss Hoffman's attorney, George C. Dix, who asserted his client was an "innocent tool" and the victim of a "frame-up," quoted the Dresden-born fraulein as admitting she knew the inner workings of the spy plot.

Signal Code.
Naming Karl Schlueter, fugitive defendant, and Guenther Gustav Rumrich, 32, former United States army sergeant who has confessed and testified for the government, the purported confession quoted Miss Hoffman as saying:

"Schlueter in my presence obtained from Rumrich a signal code, army and navy registers and other data, and I put it in my handbag."

In another part, the confession said:

"Schlueter told me Rumrich would be paid $1,000 for the plans of the United States aircraft carriers Enterprise and Yorktown."

Rumrich already had testified that he plotted to steal the aircraft carrier plans by forging President Roosevelt's signature.

General Staff for Double Attack on 'Damnable' Traffic Conditions Here

Constitution Staff Photo—Wilson. Steps to improve Atlanta's "damnable traffic conditions" were under discussion yesterday by this group of officials. Formation of a special citizens' safety committee to advise city officials on worthwhile changes was unanimously endorsed by directors of the Atlanta Motor Club and traffic officials. Mayor Hartfield pledged support of the city administration. Left to right are Judge John L. Cone, General George Van Horn Moseley, chairman of the motor club's safety committee; Robert P. McLarty, president of the Atlanta Motor Club; Mayor Hartfield, Chief M. A. Hornsby and Major Phil Brewster, head of the state highway patrol.

NAZIS CALL HALT TO CZECHS' FOES

Italy Will Assist in Settling Disputes at Proper Time, Berlin Indicates.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—(P)—The Hitler government raised the stop sign against Hungary today in a friendly but unmistakable objection to any hasty partition of what is left of the republic of Czechoslovakia.

Hungary, remnant of the pre-war Austro-Hungarian empire, is anxious to obtain some sizeable portions of Slovakia in the wake of Germany's acquisition of Sudetenland.

Germany has replied unofficially that the remaining minorities questions will be reached in good time.

Moreover, informed Nazis have indicated that when time comes, the decision will rest with Germany and Italy, and will be guided strictly by determination of predominant nationalities.

In Prague the police outlawed the Communist party and suspended its newspapers in Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia. Previously Slovakia had outlawed the Communists. That left them integral as a party only in Ruthenia where they were considered distinctly weak.

175 Tuberculosis Sufferers On Battle Hill Waiting List

Pitiful Victims of Disease Who Cannot Obtain Treatment Are Almost Mute Evidence of Need for Addition to Facilities at Institution.

More than 175 victims of tuberculosis are looking in vain for admittance to Battle Hill sanatorium, and many yesterday pleaded for voters "to open the door of hope and life" by approving bonds for erection of a new 200-bed addition provided in a $370,000 project as a part of the $8,550,000 bond issue.

Some sufferers have been on the waiting list more than a year, but because of lack of bed space and faulty planning for the buildings already at Battle Hill, it has been impossible to provide for their treatment, Dr. Joseph H. Bradford, superintendent for more than 23 years, said.

Disease Spread.
The waiting list is increasing continually and if proper facilities are not provided, the spread of tuberculosis cannot be curtailed, it was pointed out.

Milton C. Tuggle, 66, who lives in one of the Fulton County Board of Public Welfare homes at 979 West Peachtree street, and Mrs. Ester Little, 42, mother of six children, both bed-ridden from the ravages of the disease, yesterday issued appeals for approval of the $6,550,000 joint city and county bond issue, and both said they will vote for all of the items, "but especially for the Battle Hill addition."

"I'm going to vote for the bonds if I live," Tuggle, who has no relatives in Atlanta, but who has resided here for 47 of the 66 years of his life, said.

"I want to fix it so other people, who have tuberculosis, will have a place to go and get treatment. I have been trying to get

ATLANTAN IS HELD IN ALBANY DEATH

Robert H. Davis' Auto, Driven by Another, Kills Veteran Engineer.

An Atlanta candy salesman, Robert H. Davis, 39, of 737 Pearce street, S. W., was lodged in Dougherty county jail at Albany, yesterday with Frank Moore, 25, of Albany, in connection with the alleged hit-run death of Benjamin T. Wells, 60, veteran Atlantic Coast Line engineer.

Both were held without bond. Davis was charged with being drunk on a public highway, and Moore was charged with murder. Sheriff O. S. Tarver said Moore was driving Davis' car, which he said struck Wells early yesterday morning at Albany.

Wells, an employee of the railroad for 35 years, died later in Putney Memorial hospital. Police said the car struck him with such force it hurled his body through the windshield. Davis later told police he "knew nothing about it," admitting he "had been drinking."

"PILLOW" SAVES LIFE.

Big, Bad and Bold Chicago Raiders Run Into Powder-Puff Bookie Joint

Four Shame-Faced Husbans Found in All-Feminine Atmosphere.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(UP)—State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's axe raiders are large, broad-shouldered and courageous. They have destroyed 445 handbooks since mid-August and are proud of every raid—except one.

They made it late yesterday just as the last race was being run at Hawthorne. An irate husband had complained about a "book." Detective Daniel Moriarty and his squad found it. And it was all-feminine.

Flurry curtains draped the windows. There was a dainty powder room, where flimsy lamp shades matched the walls. It was a place where the patrons were served jelly rolls, tea and soft drinks between races.

Moriarty was stumped. He phoned headquarters and asked how about it.

"Go ahead," he was told. He shoed out 30 women, came across four shame-faced men in a corner. Miss Bernice Sheppard, 24, who said she was looking after things, apologized for the males. They were, she said, husbands of patrons and shouldn't have been there. Miss Emeline Poshil, 51, kept books for the ladies, and got arrested, too.

Poll Survey Made by Public Opinion Institute Shows Voters of California 2-to-1 Against $30 Pension Plan

Survey Indicates Defeat of Scheme in Election November 8.

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Preliminary results of a survey of public opinion in California show a decisive majority against enactment of the "thirty-dollars-a-year Thursday" pension plan on which the voters will give their verdict November 8.

The scheme, which goes on the state's ballots as the result of a mammoth petition, is not only regarded by California but has attracted more national attention than any pension drive since the Townsend Plan. Even the Roosevelt administration has stepped into the fight and attempted to defeat the movement.

Because it is the most widely discussed of the many extreme pension schemes which are popping up in the nation, the American Institute of Public Opinion conducted a special cross-section survey throughout California.

Its preliminary findings show the voters against the plan by approximately 2 to 1.

The rank and file of both major parties are opposed to the scheme, according to the survey. Among California Democrats the vote is approximately 3 to 2 opposed, and among Republicans nearly 4 to 1.

The survey, conducted by field

Interviewers throughout the state, is not yet completed. Final returns will be reported before the election.

Sheridan Downey, Democratic senatorial nominee who defeated Senator McAdoo in the primaries, was named on the strength of his approval of the plan.

Movement Has Spread.
The "Thirty-Dollars-Every-Thursday" plan, with variations, has spread to many other states. It is being promoted by organizations or political candidates in Tennessee, Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Maine, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Wisconsin.

Because of the growth of pension movements similar to the California drive, the Institute is now conducting a survey throughout the nation to determine how many people outside California favor the "Thirty-Dollars-Every-Thursday" plan. Results will be reported within the next two weeks.

General Moseley Proposes to Enlist Support of Property Owners.

An intensive drive to stamp out Atlanta's "damnable traffic conditions," clamp the lid on some of her "politicians," and save the city's through traffic was launched yesterday by a group of citizens in co-operation with the Atlanta Motor Club.

The first step in the board program will be the formation of a citizens' safety committee composed of 76 representatives from various Atlanta civic groups and firms operating fleets of trucks. The committee will act as an advisory body, informing city officials on laws that should be enacted to bring about a smoother

'LAW' ALSO GETS GOVERNOR'S STAFF

Even the Governor's staff isn't immune to traffic violations.

At least a dozen members of the staff have been arrested for driving offenses by officers of the state highway patrol. It was brought out at a traffic meeting sponsored by the Atlanta Motor Club yesterday.

When Captain Jack Malcom, head of the Atlanta's traffic division, rose to speak, he said: "The state patrol doesn't have anything on us. This morning at 8:15 o'clock we arrested Miss Jerry Rivers, the Governor's daughter, and at 8:30 o'clock we arrested the Governor's chauffeur."

flow of traffic and the saving of human lives.

Need Common Sense.
"Two things we need are good common sense laws and enforcement, and we are not going to get very far unless we have them," Chief M. A. Hornsby declared, pounding the table for emphasis.

Plans for the program were outlined by directors of the Atlanta Motor Club, Mayor Hartfield and traffic officials at a meeting at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

It was an enthusiastic meeting. There was frequent applause as speakers got down to the point and declared the time had come for action.

TEAR GAS READY FOR HARVARD MEN

Bombs Are Gentle Reminder of Students' Pledge to Keep the Peace.

Earlier, a skirmish occurred near the Harvard Lampoon building.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—(P)—Martin Snyder, indicted on a charge of kidnapping and attempting to murder Myrl Alderman in the home of Ruth Etting, singer, was out of jail briefly today while similar charges against him in municipal court were dismissed.

Dismissal was made on motion of the district attorney's office, which prepared to bring him speedily to trial under the grand jury indictment. Snyder, who had been at liberty under $10,000 bond, was unable to make the $50,000 bail set under the indictment.

The dapper Broadway figure was visited at jail by Mollie Cohen, identified by jailers as his sister.

Alderman, wounded in the abdomen during the quarrel at Miss Etting's home last Saturday night, continued to improve at a hospital. He steadfastly refused to see his second wife, Mrs. Alma Alderman, whose divorce is not yet final, and who has brought a $150,000 alienation of affections suit against Miss Etting.

550 DOGS ENTERED AT FREDERICKSBURG

Crowd of 3,000 Attends Virginia Mart Founded by Early Settlers.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Fredericksburg's 240-year-old dog mart drew a record-breaking 550 entries to City park today where the dogs were looked at, judged, bought, sold, bartered and bewildered by a crowd of 3,000.

The dogs, of every breed and description, brought prices ranging from five cents up as W. B. Mason, of Orange, Va., clad in a gray top hat and morning coat, wielded the auction hammer. The mart was founded when early settlers decided the Indians needed dogs for hunting.

Highlights of the morning proceedings was the bench show for hunters and pets. "Prince," an English setter owned by Mrs. Joseph R. Jella, of Ellersburg, Va., demonstrated his superiority again by being the hunter champion for the third successive year.

At 12:30 the mart activities stopped for a street parade led by half a dozen marshals on horseback. Mart officials were headed by Mayor W. Marshall King and Ben T. Pitts, president of the Chamber of Commerce. They were followed by the high school band, Boy Scouts and many dog owners marching with their pets.

The mart was resumed after the parade with a trick dog show and a fox horn blowing contest. Biggest dog in the show was a Great Dane belonging to George Coulon, of Washington, D. C. "Fritz," owned by Billy Whitlock, of Spotsylvania, won the $50 prize offered for the ugliest mutt in the show.

Oldest fox horn in the contest was 78 years old, which was given to E. B. Stubbs, of Fredericksburg, by his grandfather.

Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" of major league baseball, headed the corps of judges which examined and rated contenders for blue ribbons—contenders ranging from valuable pedigreed animals to plain, ordinary mongrels.

THWARTED LOVER DIES AT GRAVE OF FIANCEE

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 20.—(UP)—DeForest Jayne, 28, tonight stood beside the grave of the girl he had been engaged to marry, rested the muzzle of a shotgun against his heart and pulled the trigger.

He died instantly and slumped into a hollow beside the grave.

ROMANCE THAT DIED DETAILED BY SIKORA

annoyed by the fact she took it to bed with her and told how he sometimes removed it.

"You had to take it out of bed so you could get in yourself," queried Defense Counsel Smith. The crowd roared.

Pleading With Solomon. Detailing the chain of events, the defendant reported he accosted Solomon on July 11.

"I asked Solomon to quit going with my wife. I told him I loved her more than anything in the world. Solomon said he realized how much Margaret meant to me and that he couldn't be the husband to her that I had been. The next morning he telephoned that he wouldn't interfere any more. He wished me all the luck in the world."

But subsequently, he said, he saw Solomon visit Mrs. Sikora "eight or ten times" at a flat where she lived after leaving Sikora.

His account was interrupted by adjournment after he told that his 22-year-old wife had advised him that a "talk with Ed" convinced her she should get a divorce.

Breakfast in Bed. Sikora—sighing betimes—informed the jury he had begged her repeatedly to return, bought her a radio, fetched warm breakfasts to her new abode on Sunday mornings and always left a light in the front window of their honeymoon apartment "So, if she saw it, she would know she was welcome."

He told in a flat voice how he finally heard her confession of her affection for Solomon, a 35-year-old bachelor who fancied poetry.

"Did she say she loved him?" inquired Smith.

"Yes."

"Did she say whether she had ceased to care for you?"

Admitted Lies. "Yes." She admitted, too, that she had been lying to me when she told me she had been going out with girl friends. She had been in Solomon's company."

As preludes to his own account, Sikora's wife had testified against him and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, had served as a witness in his defense.

Resuming his witness stand today, Mrs. Boehme said Sikora came to her home last August 19—three days before the slaying—and confessed he was afraid to put his car in the garage "because they might have me bumped off."

"I asked who he meant," the stout mother-in-law continued. "He said, 'Why Margaret and Solomon. I'm in their way, you know.'"

Thought Daughter Crazy. Cross-examination by Prosecutor Curtis emphasized the definite split between the mother and daughter.

"Did you think Margaret was crazy?"

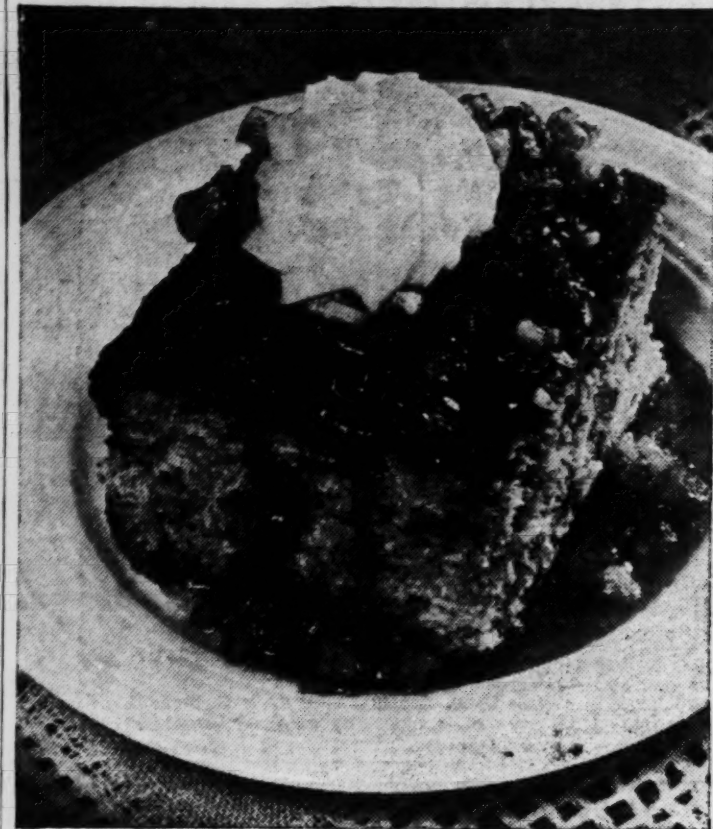

"I thought maybe she was because of the way she was acting," Mrs. Boehme replied.

"You succeeded in getting Margaret discharged?"

"Yes." The witness said.

This reference was to the time Margaret lost her position as a secretary for an accounting firm, where she worked with Solomon.

For something to do at your party for young folks or adults why not let the guests make a different jack-o-lantern. Choose large, thick skinned oranges, and cut the tops off for the "lids." Scoop out the insides and very carefully with a knife, cut in the face. Put small nails through the center of little rounds of cardboard and push the nail into the orange, to make a base for the lantern. Tiny birthday candles should be used for the lights. cream or salad in them as suggested by Mrs. Lamar E. Head, 308 West Washington avenue, East Point, who also gives a clever decoration for hot chocolate or cakes.

Ice Cream Oranges.
Cut a slice from tops of sufficient number of oranges (one for each person) and scoop out all pulp. Cut faces in each and chill. Serve filled with chocolate ice cream and top with the lids.
Serve cocoa with a marshmallow floating on top. With a toothpick dipped in melted chocolate, make eyes, nose and mouth on top of marshmallows.

An attractive Halloween salad.

as delicious as it is pretty is submitted by Mrs. C. P. Cox, Eaton, Ga. It's grand for a party or for a surprise for the family Halloween night.

Spook Salad.
Arrange 3 or 4 halves of canned pears (one to each person to be served) on lettuce leaves on a salad plate.
Into each half of pear put or place whole spices in the form of a spook's face, dot around edges with any desired mayonnaise or salad dressing, so as not to hide the appearance of the spook's face.

Mrs. Hoyt Lightfoot, 413 N. Hill street, Griffin, Ga., enters her favorite recipe for molasses popcorn balls, a typical Halloween sweet, and writes: "I eagerly await your recipes every Friday and am always trying some of them. They always prove successful and are enjoyed by the family. Hope others will get as much enjoyment from serving the balls as I have."

Molasses Popcorn Balls.
1 1/2 cups light brown sugar
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup butter vanilla
3 quarts popcorn, lightly salted
3 quarts popcorn, lightly salted

Mix first six ingredients in a large saucepan; place over low heat and stir until all the sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil, and cook slowly until a small amount dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (or 240 degrees registered on a candy thermometer). Add butter or substitute and continue to cook until it forms a very hard ball when tested (268 degrees on a candy thermometer). Remove from heat, add vanilla, and pour over the popcorn; mix with a wooden spoon. As soon as mixture is cool enough to handle, form quickly into balls about 2 1/2 inches in diameter. This makes about two dozen popcorn balls.

"Sugar and spice and everything nice" might well be the recipe for this luscious pudding. Continued in Page 4, Column 5.

1 cup mince meat
1 cup simple syrup
Boil syrup and mince meat together for about five minutes. Serve warm. The syrup is made by bringing half cup water to a boil. Then stir in three-quarters cup sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved and remove from fire. Do not allow to boil after sugar is added to water.

AIRMAIL CONTRACT SOUGHT BY DELTA

Application Filed for Memphis-Tallahassee Service.

Delta Air Lines announced yesterday application had been made to the Civil Aeronautics Authority to purchase the Memphis-Tallahassee air mail contract from Eastern Air Lines. Service has not been inaugurated on the route.

Local officials said that if Delta Air Lines obtained the new contract, it was probable there would be direct service from Atlanta through Birmingham to Memphis. C. E. Woolman, vice president, also announced that if the purchase was approved, he would make application to extend this new service through Springfield to Kansas City.

Post Office Worried About Xmas Rush

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(P)—The Post Office Department already is worrying about the Christmas rush.

Ambrose O'Connell, assistant postmaster general, told postal employees, to be lenient with persons who stick Christmas stamps on the addressed sides of parcels. The regulation prohibiting such use of non-governmental stamps will be suppressed as usual, he said, from November 15 to January 15.

Time Without End--
16 Clocks Are Stolen

"Time marches off!"
Theft of 16 clocks from offices of a manufacturer's agent on the third floor of the Walton yesterday.

Franklin B. Davis, the agent, said the clocks were valued at $104. Entrance was gained with ternational Situation."

ma Pi international fraternity

Aho restaurant on Luckie street.

Tommy Martin, of Atlanta, is among the delegates attending the fifty-fourth annual convention of the American Institute of Laundering at St. Louis, Mo.

General George Van Horn Mose-ley, chairman of the motor club's safety committee, said every citizen in Atlanta must know the problems. He proposed that a map be divided up into sections and that every property owner in a particular section be consulted on suggested changes. Such a move would stimulate their interest, he said.

"You can't get results by putting things on paper and then ordering them to be done," he asserted. "Under Mayor Hartsfield's administration the old Atlanta spirit has been revived and now we ought to get some of that spirit into our traffic program."

Reductions in the number of traffic fatalities both in the city and state were cited and the police and state highway patrol were praised for their part in bringing about this reduction. So far this year there have been 37 deaths in the city as compared with 46 for the same period last year. Figures for the state are 581 for the first eight months of last year and 476 for the same period this year.

Mayor Pledges Support.
Mayor Hartsfield pledged support of the city administration in the movement and explained that cutting down the traffic accidents means money in the pockets of citizens through reductions in casualty insurance rates.

He recommended that "more signs be hung out," and reiterated his policy of refusing to "fix tickets."

"A lot of people will raise Cain when you start talking about changing the traffic regulations, but after it's all over they'll be your most hearty supporters," the mayor declared.

Major Phil Brewster, head of the state highway patrol, Captain Jack Malcom, head of the city's traffic division; Lon Sullivan, Georgia safety director, and Councilman John T. Marler likewise pledged their co-operation in the program of improvement.

McLarty announced the first meeting of the new citizens' safety committee would be held Thursday, November 10.

War Is Launched
ON TRAFFIC ABUSES

that comes up for discussion because it might hurt their business or injure them personally were attacked by several of those present.

"The good of the entire city must be considered rather than the interests of the minority of citizens who do not understand the intricacies of administering an extensive traffic program," they declared.

Atlanta faces the loss of much of its through traffic unless something is done to alleviate present conditions, Robert P. McLarty, president of the Atlanta Motor Club, said.

May Shift Flow.
He pointed out that the State Highway Department is now thinking of establishing traffic lanes around the city because of what he termed Atlanta's "damable traffic conditions." The people from other sections of the country want to come through Atlanta, he said, but they are not going to waste two hours trying to get through jumbled traffic.

A number of changes were suggested. McLarty led off by proposing at least two one-way streets with synchronized lights.

Spring street, he explained, could be made into a one-way street going south, and Courtland and Juniper streets could be made a one-way artery going north.

This would allow traffic to get through the city easily and quickly, he said.

He also attacked "angle parking" on a number of streets. Such parking, he said, cuts down the flow of traffic much as the flow of water in a 48-inch main would be cut down by a one-inch pipe.

Firms that insist on special parking privileges must give way to the best interests of the city, he said. A few laws would revolu-

SEA HIPPODROME WILL OPEN TODAY

68-Ton Whale Will Feature Exhibition on Train
Here.

The Mammoth Marine Hippodrome, which features a 68-ton whale as a principal attraction, will arrive from Augusta this morning and will be open to the public at noon.

The exhibition, now on its first continental tour, is housed in a train which will be located at the south end of the Peters street viaduct at Peters and Castleberry streets on the Southern railroad tracks.

Seen by 4,000,000.
More than 4,000,000 persons have seen the exhibit since its original showing in San Francisco last April, according to Roy B.
Jones, publicist of the Pacific Whaling Company, which is sponsoring the display.

A wide variety is offered by the program, which covers everything from huge monsters of the deep to "Sea Tiny," the living "mermaid," who is one of the outstanding mysteries of the Hippodrome and always a center of wide interest.

Direct from the Paris Exhibition comes Nina Sionata, the "headless" woman, who has been the wonder of the tour. This scientific reproduction is demonstrated at every performance.

Other features include "Colos-sus," the 68-ton whale, and 100 other creatures of the ocean, and a complete flea circus in which hundreds of "the smallest actors and actresses in the world" perform intricate feats.

The Hippodrome will be in Atlanta 10 days, opening today and continuing through Sunday, October 30. Doors will open daily at 12 o'clock and close at 11 o'clock at night.

COLD TRAILS RAIN
INTO ATLANTA AREA

Low of 48 Predicted for This Morning.

Overcoats replaced raincoats last night as Atlantans experienced some of the season's coolest weather, borne on a 15-mile-an-hour wind that cut through thin garments.

Showers that fell generally through north Georgia yesterday for the first time since September 29 will go south today, leaving clear, crisp weather for Atlanta, according to George W.
Mindling, weather forecaster. He said .12 of an inch of rain fell in Atlanta before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Warm-natured Atlantans who haven't prepared for the mercury drop will shiver over their coffee this morning, since he predicted a low of 48 at "getting up" time.
The high of today will be 68 degrees. The mercury fell to 46 once early in the season.

MEAL OF THE MONTH SERVICE

3 NEW WAYS TO SIMPLIFY MEAL PLANNING

1 BREAKFAST OF THE MONTH

RECIPE
Here's a breakfast to make mouths water. It calls for slices of crisp, mellow-flavored, golden-brown Armour's Star Bacon. That's the kind to insist on, for this and any recipe.

Star Bacon and Cloverbloom Eggs Shredded in Cream:
Eggs: Place 3 tablespoons salted top milk or thin cream in each of the individual casseroles. Preheat in oven. Break 2 Cloverbloom eggs into each and let cook in 350° F. oven until eggs are set.
Bacon: Place strips of Armour's Star Bacon on broiler rack, 3 inches under heat unit. Broil 2 to 3 minutes to a side until crisp, but not brittle.

2 LUNCHEON OF THE MONTH

RECIPE
You'll call Armour's Star Corned Beef Hash the best ever.
It's fine cubed brisket corned beef, mixed with diced Idaho potatoes... and it has exactly the right degree of seasoning to bring out all its goodness. Serve it this easy, delicious way:

Corned Beef Hash Peaks:
Cut large sweet onions into 1/4-inch thick slices. Spread with butter, salt well, and heap with Armour's Star Corned Beef Hash. Bake at 350° F. for 25 minutes, and serve hot with chili sauce. One pound of Armour's Star Corned Beef Hash makes 6 peaks. Slices of tomato may be used in place of onions.

Baked Ham Slice with New Cabbage-Cheese Sauce: Place a 2-inch thick center slice of Armour's Star Ham in a covered baking dish. Spread with 1/2 cup brown sugar mixed with 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, and add 2 tablespoons vinegar. Cover and bake 2 hours at 300° F. Uncover last 15 minutes of baking.
Cut cabbage in thin wedges. Place in boiling salted water, and

$150,000 ADDITION FOR HOSPITAL 48 OKAYED BY HINES

60 Beds Would Be Added, With Appropriation To Be Sought in Congress.

A 60-bed addition to United States Veterans' Hospital No. 48 has been approved by Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, and only a $150,000 congressional appropriation is needed for a start of construction, it was announced yesterday in Washington.

At the same time it was announced that a new 250-bed general medical and surgical hospital is planned in Georgia at the geographical center and the center of the veteran population of an area west of Columbia, S. C., east of Montgomery, Ala., south of Tennessee and north of Florida. General Hines, according to advices from C. Arthur Cheatham, Georgia service officer of the American Legion, has ordered a survey of the section.

On the basis of present figures, the new hospital, if approved, would be constructed somewhere in an area bounded roughly by Sandersville, Americus, Barnesville and Tifton, Ga. Completion of the survey, however, will require several months, it was said.

There are about 72,000 veterans in the area included for the survey.

Hospital 48 in Atlanta has a capacity of 280 beds at the present time and the addition will increase it to 340.

Governor Rivers and the entire state delegation favor the addition to Hospital 48 and belief was expressed that the fund will be made available at the next session of congress.

RIVERS CONFERS WITH WPA AIDE

Discusses Construction Program at Milledgeville Hospital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Governor Rivers, of Georgia, said today he had "a very satisfactory conference" with Aubrey Williams, assistant works progress administrator, about the construction program at the Milledgeville state hospital.

Neither Rivers nor Williams would discuss details of their conversation. Rivers said WPA was assisting the state in a $3,500,000 repair and small building program at the hospital.

"The principal purpose of my trip this time is to see the University of Georgia-Holy Cross football game at Worcester, Mass.," he said. "I'll go on to Worcester tomorrow afternoon, and may stop in Washington on my way back next week."

Never a Dark Cloud Without Silver Lining

ITASKA, Ill., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Halloween soaping of store windows is encouraged by merchants here—with $25 in cash prizes offered for the most artistic designs.

The merchants, resigned to their fate, started the competition to make the soaping bigger and better than ever. Several merchants also will award individual prizes.

The competing children must sign pledges to commit no other deviltry, said Postmaster George J. Pfaff, sponsor of the scheme.

"We've not only curbed the mischief around here, but uncovered some real artistic talent," said Pfaff.

KIWANIS SESSIONS OPEN AT VALDOSTA

Fellowship Dinner Features First Day of Georgia District Parleys.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Kiwans Club members from all parts of Georgia converged here for the state convention of the Georgia Kiwanis district.

The first principal address was delivered tonight by Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson College. Other speakers on the three-day program include E. B. Stahlman Jr., of the Nashville Banner; Carl E. Endicott, of Atlanta; Harold Hippler, of Eustis, Fla., and Ivey Rountree, of Swainsboro, district governor.

Many of the convention members, after registering, engaged in rounds of golf this afternoon at the Valdosta Country Club. A reception for the women was held at a downtown hotel.

All district officers, past district officers and international representatives were invited to attend a district trustee's meeting prior to the fellowship dinner tonight. Tonight's program included the invocation by Dr. T. Barron Gibson, of the Valdosta club; welcome address by Kiwanian James D. Ashley, mayor of Valdosta, and George E. Simpson, president of the Valdosta club and lieutenant governor of the third division. Ivey Rountree, of Swainsboro, district governor, presided.

GLEE CLUB PROGRAM SOUGHT BY HODGSON

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 20.—Hugh Hodgson, head of the University of Georgia music department, is offering rewards for old Georgia Glee Club programs in an effort to complete the university's files on glee club history.

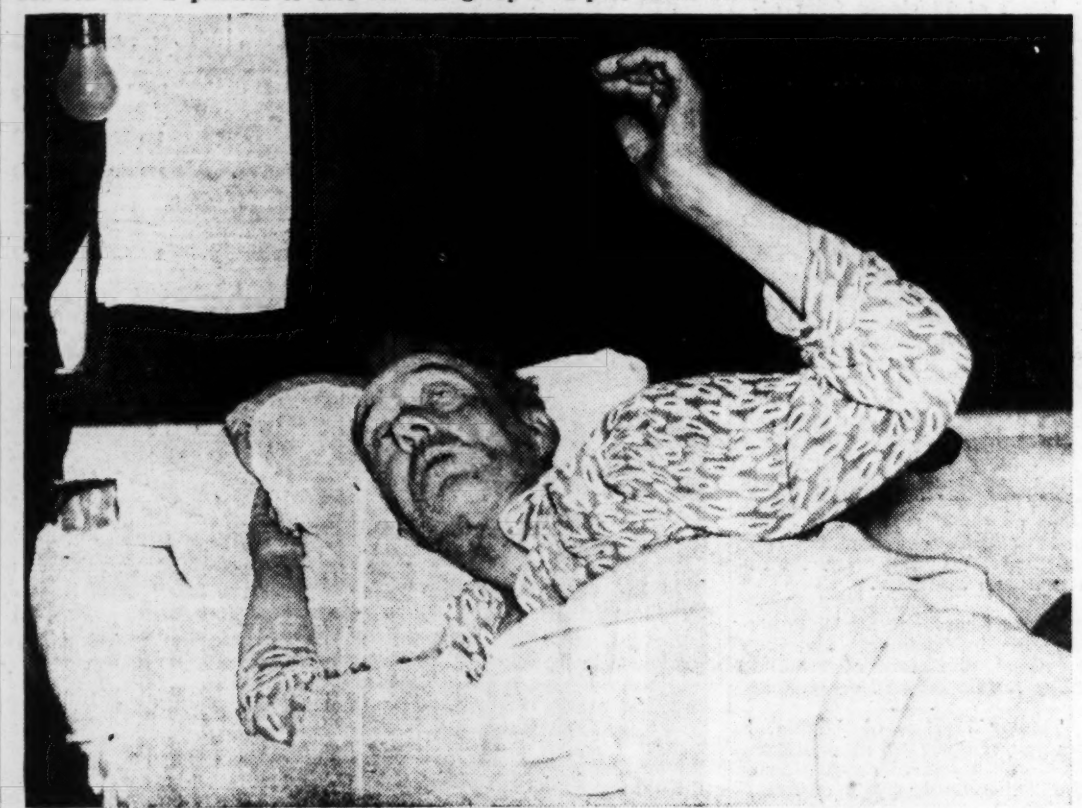

The programs date back to 1910, when the club was first organized. The program for each year from 1910 to 1928 will be worth $1 to the person who first sends it to the university music department.

For each first program turned in for the years 1928-1932 Mr. Hodgson will pay 50 cents.

Facts Are Sometimes Unpleasant, But They're Here

The Constitution realizes this picture is not pleasant and takes no pleasure in presenting it. It, as does the one below, represents conditions which exist in Atlanta among scores included in the more than 175 on the waiting list at the sanitarium. The pictures were made at random from a list provided by Battle Hill officials. Mrs. Ester Little, 42, mother of six children, is shown as she made a plea for support for the $370,000 Battle Hill addition included in the bond issue November 2. A 200-bed unit is planned to care for this group as a part of the bond issue.

Milton C. Tuggle, 66, tuberculosis victim, is shown above appealing for support for the $6,550,000 bond issue. He has tried without success to get treatment at Battle Hill sanitarium for more than a year, but, as have the others, was refused admittance because of lack of space. He told a Constitution reporter: "I expect to vote for all the bonds if I live—especially the Battle Hill bonds."

GOERING MAY CALL FOR 8-YEAR PLAN

Would Speed Up Industrial Machine in Germany's Drive to East.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering tonight was reported to be considering extension of Germany's four-year plan of economic self-sufficiency to cover an eight-year period as result of the Reich's increased influence in central and southeast Europe.

The plan of Goering, who is administrator of the autarky program, was said to include a tightening of control over industry and a reallocation of various production facilities to co-ordinate the industrial machine with the "drang nach Osten" (drive to the east).

The new plan was believed to explain an otherwise insignificant item appearing in the German press Wednesday saying that Goering, in the "coming months," would be forced to absent himself from Nazi party and official functions because of the pressure of work. Officials were asked to avoid referring to him matters not urgently requiring his attention.

Under the current plan, German economy has been geared to what, in other countries, would be regarded as wartime tempo.

Now this tempo must be further increased, it was reported, to produce maximum efficiency in support of the "manifest destiny" of the Reich in central and south-eastern Europe.

Extension of the plan to eight years probably would entail greatly expanded industrial quotas, not only as they affect German self-sufficiency but also to absorb finished products and raw materials from nations to the east which Germany is anxious to bring into close collaboration.

These expanded quotas were forecast by Economics Minister Walther Funk at the conclusion of his recent Balkan tour which extended to Turkey.

JAPANESE TYPHOON TAKES LIVES OF 230

Edge Crosses Tokyo, Flooding 10,000 Houses.

TOKYO, Friday, October 21.—(UP)—A typhoon which passed through Kyushu, one of the larger Japanese islands, killed an estimated 230 persons today and caused considerable suffering to more than 35,000.

The edge of the same typhoon crossed Tokyo, flooded 10,000 houses, destroyed trees and light structures and paralyzed traffic, but it was believed none was injured here.

Another typhoon is approaching Izu peninsula and is expected to reach here tonight.

WPA CHARGES FACE 62 IN NEW MEXICO

Assistant District Attorney, Scores of Politicians Are Indicted.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A federal grand jury today returned indictments against 62 persons for conspiracy to violate the federal WPA laws in New Mexico, among them Stanley W. P. Miller, assistant United States district attorney, and scores of men and women of high political place in state and federal government.

Eleven other indictments, other than conspiracy, were returned for political discrimination against WPA labor, diversion of WPA funds and services and illegal political activities.

Federal Judge Colin Neblett, grim and low-voiced, ordered the United States marshal to arrest the 73 defendants and bring them to court Tuesday morning to make bond.

In one of the most sensational and sweeping court actions ever to take place in New Mexico's 25 years of statehood, the grand jury found true bills against men and women long associated with governmental matters.

Among them were Miller, who is son-in-law of United States Senator Dennis Chavez; Mrs. Anita Tafoya, the senator's sister; his cousin, Salomon Chavez; his nephew, Salomon Tafoya; Mrs. J. A. Werner, wife of the Albuquerque postmaster; Mariano Werner, the postmaster's brother; Fred G. Healy, former state WPA administrator; Fred Sganzi, head of the state Drivers License Bureau; Joe Martinez, secretary to Senator Chavez; Richard Duran, of the Department of Internal Revenue, and scores of WPA administrative employees.

BAPTISTS OF TROUP END 2-DAY SESSION

Initial Convention Addressed By Dr. Frank Tripp.

LAGRANGE, Ga., Oct. 20.—Urging the following of a positive, personal, ethical and spiritual gospel as means of combatting present-day moral laxity, Dr. Frank Tripp addressed members of the newly organized Troup County Baptist Association at the final session of its two-day convention here yesterday.

"We have always lived in a new and critical day, and have always had problems. The gospel today is no different from that of other days," he said.

Dr. Tripp, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Montgomery, Ala., president of the Georgia Baptist convention, and Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, Atlanta, were the principal speakers.

Officers appointed for the 1938-39 sessions were: R. O. Pharr, of LaGrange First church, moderator; the Rev. B. E. Middlebrooks, of East LaGrange, vice moderator; T. G. Polhill, of First LaGrange, clerk and treasurer; Mrs. L. D. Allen, of First LaGrange, Woman's Missionary Union leader; the Rev. J. B. Rice, of Dunson, Baptist Training Union director; the Rev. C. M. Goforth, of Southwest LaGrange, Sunday school superintendent.

Approximately 300 representatives of the 19 churches of Troup and Heard counties, comprising the new association, attended the convention.

FOREST AMENDMENT INDORSED BY MOORE

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Jere N. Moore, president of the Georgia Press Association, has appealed for support of the constitutional amendment which would provide fire protection of forest lands.

Moore said in letters to Georgia editors that his affection for the late Dr. Charles H. Herty prompted the appeal. He pointed out the Savannah scientist urged the press association at its Swainsboro meeting in June to support the amendment.

The amendment would provide for counties to appropriate funds for forest fire protection if they desire.

3,000 Democrats Pay $100 Each For Fried Steak

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, speaking to more than 8,000 persons who paid $100 each for a steak dinner, called tonight for "party loyalty" and said Republicans had chosen Pennsylvania as a "special battleground" of the November elections.

The official count of the number of tickets sold for the affair was 3,478. The money, less the expenses of the dinner and entertainment, will go to the state campaign fund.

The postmaster general called the many state ballots 19 days hence "a national election" and declared that if Republicans "are able now to win even a partial victory" in Pennsylvania "they will parade it as proof that the New Deal has waned."

He declared that Democrats were "striving" to get enough elected to congress "to make trouble," and added:

"They have the idea that if they could pin the badge of failure on one of the most brilliant administrations this country ever has known, the people might turn to them as it turned to our party when the last Republican administration showed its lack of resource and courage."

HENRY B. PLATT DIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Henry Barstow Platt, 78, retired executive of the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland, died at his home today. He was the son of the late United States Senator Thomas Platt.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS IN VIENNA QUELLED

Suppression by Stormtroopers Is Believed Connected With Hitler Visit.

VIENNA, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Uninformed Nazi stormtroopers tonight suppressed new flare-ups of anti-Jewish disorders with a sternness believed to be connected with Chancellor Adolf Hitler's visit to Austria.

Hitler was understood to have held a series of "important political conferences" at Linz regarding conditions in Austria.

Berlin dispatches said Hitler returned to his Berchtesgaden chalet in the Bavarian Alps late tonight.

M. M. STOCKTON, 71, LEADER IN PRINTING CIRCLES HERE, DIES

Veteran Member of I. T. U.
Had Served as Manager of Asheville Paper.

Mitchell McLain Stockton, 71, widely-known in printing, advertising and newspaper circles of Atlanta and one of the oldest members of the International Typographical Union in the nation, died yesterday morning in a private hospital. He had been ill for almost two years.

A former general manager of the old Asheville (N. C.) Citizen, he had been general manager of the Georgia Power Company printing plant in Atlanta and at one time operated a printing establishment of his own here.

Mr. Stockton was born in Orlando, Fla., when the city was little more than open country. He recalled often that he was the 26th inhabitant of what is now a flourishing Florida city.

When he was 12 years old, he moved with his family to Asheville, and shortly thereafter he began his career as a printer's apprentice on the newspaper. Before moving from Asheville, he was general manager of the leading newspaper.

He was connected with the Birmingham News-Age Herald for six years before coming to Atlanta more than 25 years ago. His first connection here was with the Atlanta Journal, where he worked as a printer for several years.

About 15 years ago, he formed the Stockton Printing Company and operated this firm until he became connected with the printing plant of the Georgia Power Company. He was later employed with the Harvey-Massengale Advertising Agency before retiring several years ago.

Was Presbyterian.
Mr. Stockton joined the International Typographical Union more than 35 years ago and was an active member until he retired. He was a member of the Inman Park Presbyterian church.

Surviving are the wife, the former Miss Alma Morris, of Asheville; a son, Frank P. Stockton, general building contractor in Atlanta; a daughter, Miss Ruth Stockton, of Boston, Mass.; five sisters, Mrs. J. R. Clements and Mrs. E. E. McDowell, both of Asheville; Mrs. Sam Dowling and Miss Alice C. Stockton, both of New Port Richey, Fla.; and Mrs. Sam Ervin, of Concord, N. C.; a brother, Doak Stockton, of Knoxville, Tenn., and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be announced by Sam R. Greenberg & Company.

SKIES KEPT CLEAR BY AIRCRAFT GUNS

Army Hails Marksmanship at Honolulu.

HONOLULU, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Army anti-aircraft batteries near Honolulu have been so thoroughly shooting up sleeve targets at 17,000 feet, supposedly the "ceiling" for that type of practice, that their officers have concluded they would be able to sweep Hawaiian skies clear of any enemy planes.

Batteries of the Sixty-fourth coast artillery have been scoring six or more hits in 20 shots at targets speeding 180 miles an hour behind America's highest climbing military planes. One hit in 20 has been considered good marksmanship for three-inch anti-aircraft guns.

This target is so far from the anti-aircraft guns—upward of three miles—that the firing pieces are aimed even ahead of the towing plane. Between the firing of the gun and the bursting of the shell, 20 second elapse, and during that time the plane moves one mile.

Archbishop Puts Reporter at Ease

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20.—(AP) The working press at the eighth national Eucharistic Congress smiled in appreciation today at an archbishop's sense of humor.

A reporter, seeking to observe formality, had addressed him repeatedly during an interview as "your excellency."

"Say," the prelate interrupted him, "You know, you really don't have to keep calling me that."

"But, what else can I call you," the reporter asked, puzzled.

"Well, 'archbishop' is all right. It's simpler. I like simplicity."

"How about plain 'bishop' or even 'father'?" the reporter suggested.

The archbishop surveyed him for a moment, then laughed.

"Son," he said, "if you want to, just make it plain old 'Ed.'"

2 MORE DIVISIONS FULLY ORGANIZED FOR CHEST DRIVE

Advance Gifts Group and Women Prepare to Canvass in Campaign.

Two more divisions of the Community Chest campaign organization prepared for their part in a successful drive yesterday as the advance gifts division began active solicitation and the women's central division completed enlistment of leaders.

The advance gifts division, headed by J. C. Malone, met at the Athletic Club to receive final instructions.

Bobby Jones, campaign chairman, sent them into the campaign with a plea for the most successful campaign Atlanta has had.

"We don't want people to give because they gave last year, or because they think they should," Jones told the workers. "We want them to think honestly of the need that we must meet, and the responsibility that goes with having the means to give."

"I think that if people will really think about what the Chest is and means we will have no trouble getting the money."

Alva G. Maxwell is associate director of the division.

Workers include George McCarty, Luther Allen, Charles Chalmers, E. L. Emery, W. H. Wynne, G. M. Phillips, Lon Duckworth, Frank Akers, Jerry Wells, P. W. Greene, Thomas H. Scott, Norris Broyles, Henry Bowden, Richard N. Schwab, Fritz Orr, Freeman Strickland, Roy G. Booker, Irving Schewpke, Robert Scott, Thomas W. Moore, Roby Robinson, Fred Jordan, Dowdell Brown, Herbert D. Oliver and Kenneth Kalmbach.

With this division at work, the third to take the field in advance of the campaign opening November 2, women leaders of Atlanta met at the office of Mrs. J. N. McEachern, director of the women's central division, to form teams and prepare for active solicitation.

Captains in the women's central division include Mrs. Willis Miller Jr., Mrs. Calvin Prescott, Mrs. Bert Fox, Mrs. Herman Heyman, Mrs. Clyde King Jr., Mrs. Albert S. Adams Sr., Mrs. R. H. Dobbs, Mrs. C. E. Harrison, Mrs. Grady Poole, Mrs. Bond Almond, Mrs. James C. Malone, Mrs. William D. Owens, Mrs. F. H. Brady, Mrs. Warren E. Bradley, Mrs. Errol B. Hay Jr., Mrs. J. Cecil Stanley and Mrs. Harry C. Gould.

Juvenile Stars Grab the Spotlight In Attractive Film Card for Week

Fox Shows 'That Certain Age'; Loew's, 'Listen, Darling'; Paramount, 'Straight, Place and Show'; Rialto, 'Topper', and Rhodes, 'Vacation From Love.'

By LEE ROGERS.
Motion Picture Editor.

Movie prospects for the coming week appear good with the juvenile musical stars, Deanna Durbin and Judy Garland, commanding the greatest attention. The Ritz Brothers and "Topper" will add comedy to the program and the "Mysterious Mr. Moto" takes care of the crime angle.

Universal Studios, which has been depending upon Deanna Durbin for the past two years to keep the wolf from the door, was faced with the problem of bringing the kid star through the awkward age. They have made an excellent beginning in "That Certain Age," showing at the Fox, in which Deanna goes through the disillusionment of puppy love.

Judy Garland, in "Listen Darling" at Loew's, sings some catchy songs and provides good comedy.

The Ritz Brothers, Ethel Merman, Richard Arlen and Phyllis Brooks provide comedy, song and romance at the Paramount in "Straight, Place and Show." Cary Grant and Constance Bennett return in "Topper," the sophisticated comedy at the Rialto.

"Vacation From Love" is the first-run M-G-M film starring Dennis O'Keefe and Florence Rice at the Rhodes theater.

"The Mysterious Mr. Moto" features Peter Lorre in another of his detective roles at the Capitol theater.

PARAMOUNT FEATURES

"STRAIGHT, PLACE, SHOW" Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," featuring the Ritz Brothers, will open a week's run today at the Paramount theater.

In the supporting cast to supply the love interest are Richard Arlen and Phyllis Brooks.

Others in the cast are Ethel Merman, George Barbier and Willie Best.

The story opens at one of the country's big race tracks with the Ritz Brothers very surprised when their horse romps home the winner. They decide to keep betting on "Playboy" until they have enough to retire.

Richard Arlen gambles his happiness with lovely Phyllis Brooks on the chances that "Playboy" won't win another race in three months. If "Playboy" wins, Arlen is to build him a stable right off the bedroom. If the horse loses, Phyllis is to give the animal to Arlen. Comic situations prevail throughout.

RIALTO THEATER

RETURNS "TOPPER"

Undoubtedly there is special rejoicing this morning among a large segment of the movie fan population of Atlanta. For, starting with the first performance of today, the Rialto theater has brought back "Topper" for a week's re-showing.

Cary Grant and Constance Bennett are the co-stars of the piece but there are two others in the cast deserving equal prominence in the billing. They are Roland Young, in the title role, and Billie Burke. Their performances in this picture established new highs in comedy characterization.

The picture set a new style in screen comedy. It is the story of two ghosts, young man and wife killed in an auto crash, who set about to remove from his representations a staid and custom-bound banker. The ghosts materialize or dematerialize at will, and the escapades into which they lead the banker prove the ultimate in hilarious comedy.

CAPITOL WILL SHOW

"MYSTERIOUS MR. MOTO" There was an exciting and unscheduled denouement to one of the most thrilling scenes in Peter Lorre's "Mysterious Mr. Moto" during filming of this action-packed drama which opens a week's engagement at the Capitol theater starting Sunday. The film is one of the movie quiz contest pictures.

The director, by painstaking rehearsal, had brought the cast and throng of extras to a high emotional pitch. A murder, by the unusual device of dropping a weighty chandelier on the victim, was about to take place.

The cameras started rolling. And suddenly the lights went out! Realistic shrieks filled the air. But nothing happened. On a catwalk high above the set the chandelier manipulator kept his head, and when, after a few breathless seconds, the lights came on, there had been no hits, no runs, no errors.

"Sky Giants" aviation drama starring Chester Morris and Richard Dix, now offered at the Capitol, ends Saturday, along with "Oddities of 1939" on the stage.

FOX TO PRESENT

"THAT CERTAIN AGE" Deanna Durbin's latest starring production, comes to the Fox theater today.

"That Certain Age" stars Deanna in a cast which includes Melvyn Douglas, Jackie Cooper, Irene Rich, John Halliday, Juanita Quigley, Jackie Searle, Charles Coleman, Nancy Carroll and Peggy Stewart.

Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson, who have written most of Deanna's original songs for the screen, penned three numbers for the singing star.

"That Certain Age" will present Deanna as a 15-year-old girl undergoing her first pang of school-girl romance when she falls romantically in love with a man many years her senior.

"LISTEN DARLING" OPENS AT LOEW'S

Judy Garland, of all people, is the arch rascal of the new M-G-M comedy, "Listen Darling," which opens at Loew's today.

The vivacious little girl who played with Mickey Rooney in "Love Finds Andy Hardy," sets the complications going in the new family film, which is along the lines of that adolescent classic. Co-starred with her are Mary Astor, Freddie Bartholomew, and Walter Pidgeon.

Judy has made up her mind that the local banker, Gene Lockhart, is not the proper husband for her beautiful widowed mother, played by Mary Astor. With boy friend Freddie Bartholomew to help her, Judy practically shanghai her mother and little brother, Scotty Beckett, into a trailer trip through Florida. Here, Judy feels, she will be able to find her mother a rich and eligible husband.

RHODES WILL SHOW

"VACATION FROM LOVE"

In a world increasingly conscious of humor, the hilarious adventures of a young couple who try to solve the age-old problems attendant upon matrimony should prove a wholesome tonic. The subject is elaborately and entertainingly handled in "Vacation From Love," which features Dennis O'Keefe, Florence Rice, Reginald Owen and June Knight. The picture opens today at the Rhodes theater.

In the new picture O'Keefe wins his fourth leading role in the year which has passed since he leaped from the extra ranks to his meteoric success as a leading man in "Bad Man From Brimstone." Miss Rice, who has scored as the ingenue in a score or more of recent successes, has another light comedy role in "Vacation From Love," that of the wife who cannot understand her husband.

"YOUTH TAKES A FLING" IS FOX PREVIEW

Hailed as the "surprise" picture of the year, and starring Andrea Leeds and Joel McCrea in a story which reveals the poignant heartaches which conflicting ambitions may bring to reckless young love, Universal's new dramatic hit, "Youth Takes a Fling," will be shown in preview at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Fox theater.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Glenn L. Martin Company, maker of military aircraft, parts and equipment, will be running at top speed through 1940 filling orders for planes from the United States and foreign governments, Glenn L. Martin, president, predicted today.

MAY BE CONCLUDED

Donehoo Foresees No New Murder Clews.

A third—and possibly concluding—session of the inquest into the slaying of Thomas H. (Pop) Herd, Rhodes Center special policeman, will be held at 9 o'clock this morning in the Fulton county courthouse.

Coroner Paul Donehoo said there were no new developments in the mystery yesterday, and that the inquest would be terminated today if no new evidence was introduced. He added that "nothing had turned up in connection with the clew of a napkin found near Herd's body."

Herd was beaten to death early last Sunday during burglary of a liquor store at the Center. Nearly $1,000 was stolen.

ALAN D. WHITAKER LAST RITES TODAY

Services Will Be Conducted as St. Luke's Church at 11 O'Clock.

Funeral services for Alan D. Whitaker, 71, well-known consulting engineer and gas production expert, who died Wednesday at his home, 279 Tenth street, N. E., after a brief illness, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning in St. Luke's Episcopal church by Dr. John Moore Walker. Burial will be in West View cemetery, under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Whitaker was on the rowing team there 51 years ago. A year ago, he and three other members of the crew—a championship group in its day—met again and rowed together. Former Senator Wharton Pepper was one of the members of the crew.

Mr. Whitaker had made his home in Atlanta since 1908 and was superintendent of the gas production division of the Georgia Power Company for 20 years. Since 1930, he had been connected with the Randall Fuel Company as production engineer.

He was a leading member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of the St. Luke's church. He was president of the Atlanta Alumni Association of the University of Pennsylvania.

DYING BREEZE ROBS THEBAUD OF WIN

Victory Was Certain for Challenger.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A dying breeze today robbed the American schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, challenger for the international fishermen's trophy, of a victory over the Canadian defender, Captain Angus Walters' big salt banker Bluenose.

The Canadians conceded that had there been sufficient breeze to finish the contest within the six-hour time limit, it would have been won by Thebaud. The Gloucester schooner was leading by about a mile when it became apparent there was no chance of finishing.

COBB MOB ARRESTS INCREASED TO 28

Smyrna Passes Normal Day With Handful of Officers on Duty.

Arrests of participants in disorders Monday and Tuesday at Smyrna continued yesterday, with 28 accused young men lodged in the Cobb county jail at Marietta. It was indicated additional arrests would be made.

Meanwhile, Smyrna passed a normal day. Twenty state troopers and a few Cobb county deputy sheriffs remained in the town, however, to augment the Smyrna police.

The men in the Marietta jail were being held in default of bonds of $2,500 each. Unless the prisoners appear tomorrow before Judge J. H. Hawkins' pleas court, it was indicated, they will remain in jail until the term of superior court opens November 7.

Adjutant General Jack Stoddard and Lon E. Sullivan, deputy chief of the state patrol, instructed all officers in Smyrna not to permit crowds to form.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Votes Full Co-operation in Bond Drive

Jaycees Ask Voters to Cast Ballots for Approval of Issues in Election November 2; County to Await Supplementary Funds, Commissioners Say.

Members of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted indorsement of the $6,550,000 bond issue and asked all voters of Atlanta and Fulton county to cast their ballots for approval in the November 2 election.

At the same time, three of the five members of the Fulton county commission—J. A. Ragsdale, chairman, and George F. Longino and Troy Chastain—asserted that none of the county funds will be expended until sufficient supplementary funds have been made available to complete each project undertaken.

William A. Horne Jr., president of the Junior Chamber, informed bond headquarters, of which La-Gare Davis is in charge, of the action of the body, and promised every co-operation possible.

The resolutions cite that Georgia law requiring that 51 per cent of the registered voters must vote for the bonds and urged voters to visit the polls.

Text of the resolution follows:

The city of Atlanta and Fulton county are facing a grave crisis in their development because of the necessities listed in the bond election of November 2d.

And whereas, the city must vote these bonds by November 2 in order to participate in the federal spending program; And whereas, at least 51 per cent of the registered voters of Fulton county and the city of Atlanta must vote for bonds in this election in order to pass them;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce in luncheon assembly go on record as fully indorsing this bond election and urge every registered voter to vote for all bonds listed.

4 HELD IN FRANCE AS SPIES FOR ITALY

Paris Police Inspector Among Those Seized by Counter-espionage Agents.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Counter-espionage agents working with police tonight were piecing together the parts of what they termed a spy ring for Italy which included a Paris police inspector. Investigators in Paris and Lyon were questioning four men arrested last night and today. In the order of their arrest, the prisoners are:

Adrian Grosso, Italian consular agent at Moutiers.

Police Inspector Jean Rakowsky, 52, of Paris, a decorated World War veteran.

Vincenzo Bellavia, an Italian accused of working with Rakowsky.

Vittorio di Resta, 33, employee of the Italian consular agency at Annecy.

A headquarters announcement said Rakowsky had confessed to furnishing confidential information to an Italian secret agent over a period of 18 months. Detectives said Bellavia and Rakowsky admitted working together.

The police inspector and Bellavia were being questioned here. Grosso and di Resta were taken to Lyon.

Investigators identified di Resta as the leader of a movement among Fascist Italians living in the frontier departments of Savoie and Haute-Savoie.

H. STILLWELL EDWARDS ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

MACON, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Harry Stillwell Edwards, 83-year-old Macon author and columnist, was gravely ill with pneumonia tonight.

Physicians attending the noted Georgia literary figure said his case was "not hopeless" but disclosed Edwards' temperature went to 102 degrees today.

The octogenarian writer was taken to a hospital (Middle Georgia) Tuesday suffering an attack of bronchitis which developed into bronchial pneumonia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Police broadcast an alarm tonight for two polite "Beau Brummels" gunmen who raided a jewelry shop off the crowded main lobby of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel today, trussed up three attendants, and escaped with $10,000 in jewels.

The robbers overlooked $150,000 worth of jewels in an open safe when an unsuspecting customer drove them to flight.

Mongrel Drifts Onto High Levels Of N. Y. Society

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Bargee, an 8-month-old mongrel dog, set a canine record in social climbing tonight.

A week ago he was rescued by a barge crew from a driftwood raft in the North river. Then he fell into the bilge of the barge and was rescued after 24 hours by A. S. P. C. A. agents.

Tonight he was adopted by Mrs. E. Williams Holmes, socialite A. S. P. C. A. benefactor, and taken to live in her fashionable home in Gracie Square.

A couple of years ago, a local Pekingese crashed the social register, but it took him more than a week to make it.

ITALIAN 'LEGIONS' BACK FROM SPAIN

3,000 Can Never Return, 2,000 Permanently Crippled, Newspapers Say.

NAPLES, Oct. 20.—(AP)—With 10,000 Italian legionnaires landed today on their native soil after a year and a half of service in the Spanish Civil War, Italian newspapers said less than 20,000 of their comrades remained in Spain. The press cited 40,000 as the number that had gone to Spain to fight for the insurgent cause, saying that some 3,000 were killed while 9,000 others were wounded. Two thousand of those injured will remain crippled.

A study of six Texas farm families awarded honors as "Master Farmers" shows that the heads of the families averaged 51 years and that each family averaged two children.

OUR BUSINESS, ANYWAY

Nazi Germany would like to see the United States discard plans for building adequate defense armaments and to that end has launched a campaign against those who recognize the need and the danger of continued unpreparedness. It is a typical Nazi attack, designed to stir internal strife in a country with which ostensibly friendly relations are maintained.

In the face of this propaganda the people of this country must remember that Germany, Italy and Japan are armed to the limit of their resources, and that they will continue to build as rapidly as their economies permit. Each is, today, a virtual armed camp. Americans must also remember the tragic unpreparedness of 1917 and the equally tragic British impotence of 1938. While war is horrible in its concept, it can be averted only by a preparedness that leaves no doubt in the minds of aggressor nations of an ability to defend this country.

This defense border is not at the Canadian line, or at the Mexican boundary. It extends from the northernmost tip of Canada to the Tierra del Fuego territory of Argentina, since any foothold won by an enemy in this hemisphere will only double and triple the defense needs of this country. Only so long as the totalitarian countries do not possess air and naval bases on this continent will the nations of the new world be able to preserve independence.

The great future development of civilization will take place in this hemisphere. In this hemisphere are the resources which the aggressor countries would turn to their own nefarious purposes. Their natural path is to this hemisphere, which has already felt attempts to impose their ideologies and their unfair methods of trade compulsion.

It is small wonder the Latin American nations are apprehensive. German relations with Brazil are strained because of certain events that follow a pattern now well known in Europe. And German penetration in Brazil is no new matter. German eyes have long been turned to that lush country. Emigration from the Reich was turned in the 1880's from this country to the richest states of Brazil. Only the Monroe Doctrine and the "Big Stick" of Theodore Roosevelt balked German ambitions in this hemisphere in past years.

Every country in South America is now mustering the strongest delegation possible for the Pan-American conference in December at Lima, Peru. It is probable Secretary of State Hull will head the American delegates, and that a new era of co-operation between the Americans will be born at that meeting. America must lead in this new closeness. Otherwise, it can only follow that some of these countries will fall into the Fascist orbit and this nation's safety will be doubly endangered.

That the United States is forced to rearmament measures is to be regretted. But only in that way can this land secure insurance against the more terrible eventuality of war or subjection to an alien people. Whether Germany approves or not—and few give a continental whether the Nazis do or not—the facts must be faced, and it is infinitely better to face facts with a strong rebuttal argument.

ENTERTAINMENT AND EDUCATION

The Student Lecture Association of Emory University has announced the program of attractions it has booked for the coming winter and spring season. Rarely has such a group been enabled to offer to the general public so widely varied a series. Entertainment and education are available throughout.

Next Friday evening, in the Glenn Memorial auditorium, where all the attractions will be presented, the opening number of the series will bring Osa Johnson in her lecture, with motion pictures, on Central Africa, the Cannibal Islands and Borneo. The title of the attraction is "Jungles Calling."

Other attractions include a famous symphony orchestra, the popular Coffer-Miller Players in two three-act dramas; Jonathan Daniels, speaking on "The South As I See It;" Julian Bryan, reporter for the March of Time, with his remarkable pictures "Inside Nazi Germany;" Ewart Edmund Turner on "The Battle of Religions in Germany;" Professor E. Allison Peers, on "The Civil War in Spain," and a team of world-famous professional magicians or illusionists.

Emory, through opening these lecture and concert series to the general public, performs a great service to Atlanta. Atlantans are thus enabled to keep abreast with outstanding thought and experiences of leaders in this modern world. The cost of attending the various attractions is small and, with street car service practically to the door of the auditorium, it is not difficult to reach them.

Atlanta has too few opportunities for new culture of this type and the series offered at Emory should appeal widely to all thoughtful citizens of the community.

TRADE AGREEMENT EXPECTED

With the British parliament scheduled to convene on November 1, reports from London list four major items of policy which are expected to center attention in the early part of the session. These four are national defense, Palestine, Anglo-Italian affairs and the Anglo-American trade agreement.

In regard to the fourth, indications are that the long-pending agreement will be signed in the near future. Desired on both sides of the Atlantic, it is expected to be the capstone to the series of trade agreements, with various nations, arranged by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. These pacts, it is conceded, have done more to reopen channels of world trade, partially blocked by nationalistic jealousies and high tariffs, than anything else. Once world trade is free and open to all, the greatest cause of national rivalries—hence wars—is removed.

Public sentiment in Britain is said to be overwhelmingly in favor of the trade treaty with the United States. As the two nations most vitally interested in world trade it is but natural and desirable that they should work in closest possible commercial harmony. This does not mean they must be anything but entirely independent on the issues of domestic and foreign policies. It simply means that, by mutual trade, they help each other and increase the exports and imports of both.

As a sample of what the pending agreement may accomplish, it is believed it will bring about a raising of British custom duties against German and Italian-made automobiles, with differentials, and possibly a quota, in favor of American-made cars.

In any event, the agreement to be signed cannot help but prove beneficial to both signatories and, through them, to the entire commercial world.

CORRUPT ELECTION PRACTICES

Elimination of the influence of relief expenditures, manipulation of social security funds and patronage dispensing from political campaigns is a matter of more serious import than preventing voters affiliated with one party from participating in the primaries of another. The latter evil exists only in a few states and can be easily remedied. The former evil is widespread in all the states, according to information gathered by the senate committee on campaign expenditures, and cannot be so easily remedied.

Democratic Senator Morris Shepard, of Texas, chairman of the committee, recently said: "It is an entirely new situation that confronts us. Government employees and those depending on the government for their livelihood have come to constitute a larger and larger proportion of all the population. The government and government officials have obtained more and more power to control elections."

The greatest concern in keeping the election processes undefiled only a few years back was excessive expenditures of private funds. This evil was brought under control by enactment of the corrupt practices act, in so far as general elections were concerned. The supreme court of the United States ruled it did not govern primaries. From a practical standpoint there is no line of demarcation between primaries and general elections when it comes to honesty. The law should cover both. In the south the primary, not the election, decides the issues.

The worst election scandals today, however, have no relation to private expenditures, but to the misuse of federal funds and patronage—a far worse and more dangerous offense. If the practice is allowed to continue unabated it could result, sometime in the future, in perpetuating an undesirable administration in office.

The use of federal handouts to directly influence general elections, as well as primaries, should be prohibited by law. Such a prohibition should be incorporated in the corrupt practices act as advocated by two Democratic senators, Hatch of New Mexico and Walsh of Massachusetts.

Through a misprint, New England is listed in a Department of Commerce bulletin among the foreign lands. We trust this is the last of the Maine-Vermont gags.

In fairness to the Fuehrer, it is believed a sunspot of unprecedented size is partly to blame for that shrieking on your radio.

It's a schoolchild in erudite Boston who defines "prose" as "men who play games for money and are different from poets."

On closer examination it is found that the Democrats ran out, leaving Hitler single-handed to wage the Munich peace.

One would want to know more about surgery's triumph in grafting rabbits' eyes into humans. Do they light up at the thought of lettuce?

(From the Columbia State)

For 18 years, or thereabout, South Carolina cotton growers have been feeding boll weevils. Some have worked hard to protect their fields from the parasites, others have worked indifferently to do so, and still others have done nothing at all about the matter. The number of farmers who fight the pest is increasing from year to year, but always they are discouraged and hampered by neighbors who do not fight, and in whose fields weevils breed unmolessted, and later migrate at will, destroying the late or top crop in nearly all South Carolina fields.

To a considerable degree this will continue to be the story of the boll weevil in South Carolina, unless action more effective than any yet tried can be had. Apparently, the government alone can carry out a program that will control the weevil. Next spring the government can, if it wishes, launch a project for the systematic poisoning of all cotton fields when the first over-winter weevils come out and begin to eat and lay eggs. If cotton growers demand this project, officials will listen. Cotton farmers are not a wealthy group. They cannot, therefore, afford to feed parasites. They cannot afford wasted labor, wasted money, or wasted land. The boll weevil represents waste.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

WAR IN NEW YORK G. O. P. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Something really big is happening here in New York—and the tensely exciting Lehman-Dewey campaign is only part of it. It is the battle between Republican stand-patters and new men, who dare to suggest that their party should abandon the old Casablanca policy.

In Pennsylvania, your correspondents discovered the Republicans still sternly imitating the chuckle-headed boy on the burning deck. Commanded by their big business backers, they have not budged an inch from their opposition to every innovation of these last years. In New York the issue is doubtful. But if the new men beat the stand-patters here, a long step will have been taken toward a new kind of national Republican party, which might even break all recent precedents by winning an election or two.

PRINCIPLES AND STEIN

The leader of the new men is Kenneth Simpson, boss of the New York city organization and national committeeman for the state. And Simpson is not the sort of fellow usually seen in high Republican places.

He is youngish, energetic, and personable—no relic of the dead days of Coolidge and Hoover. His private tastes are so various that he numbers Gertrude Stein and Kerensky among his close friends. He has never been known to use the word "regime," and speaks of the New Deal with bitterness, and rarely prophesies that "this spending can't go on." Strangest of all, he does not proclaim himself a "man of principle." Indeed, he takes some pride in being just the opposite, for, although he got his start among the silk-stockings, he is now an intensely practical politician.

His theory is that conservation differs from reaction chiefly in the matter of principles. Reactionaries bristle with principles, but there is, we'd rather die than make peace with it." Conservatives cannot afford too many principles, because they must never say to the voters, "You absolutely cannot do this or that." They recognize the inevitability of change, but try to make it slow and careful, and to insure that it will do the least possible harm to established interests.

Your correspondents suspect that, in his heart of hearts, Ken Simpson thinks the Republican has been a reactionary party. They are certain his present ambition is to make it a conservative party by the foregoing definition.

NEW OBJECTIVES

Simpson and his new men have their headquarters here in New York city. Except for an alliance with Ed Jaekle, the Republican boss of Buffalo, they have not yet made much headway upstate. The stand-patters still rule. And even in the city itself, the Roosevelt-voting type of Republican has been strong enough to give Simpson one or two severe lickings.

The new men have exerted themselves in three ways. They have supported Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, because, while he is no conservative, failure to support him would have branded the city Republicans as hopeless Tories. They have tried to work with the American Labor party, because the organization's platform indicated that the temporary alliance would be useful. And they have searched for fresh, politically appealing faces as anxiously as Hollywood talent scouts.

The search for fresh faces has already borne important fruit. Tom Dewey, the best of all, was a fortunate accident. But besides Dewey the new men have found two other promising vote-getters—Newbold Morris, one of the most attractive figures in the LaGuardia administration, and Representative Bruce Barton. With men like these, the new men hope they can beat the Democrats, not by arguing about objectives, but by promising to do roughly the same thing in a better way.

THE LINEUP

There have been serious setbacks. At the state convention which nominated Dewey, Simpson failed to handle the stand-patters very tactfully, and the relations between the new men and the organization are now worse than ever. In New York, the Labor party alliance has virtually assured Representative Barton's re-election, since part of Simpson's deal was for the Laborites to keep a third man in the field against the Democratic nominee. Yet Simpson has been unable to deliver on a number of his promises to the Labor party. His rank-and-file followers also rebelled when he backed the able Allen W. Dulles against the Democratic bad penny, Representative John J. O'Connor, who had received the Republican congressional nomination in the sixtieth district.

In fact, the battle between the new men and the stand-patters is now reaching its crucial stage. If Dewey confuses the prophets by winning the governorship, the new men will also be victorious, for Dewey will work with Simpson. If Dewey loses, the stand-patters will gang up on the new men. It is to be hoped they will fail, for, if they succeed, the cause of realistic Republicanism will be lost, and the country needs nothing more than an intelligent, lively opposition party.

Negro

Chants.

The old negro work and play chants, handed down generation after generation, have formed subject of fascinating research for various people.

Mrs. Maxfield Parish, living on Sea Island, made an intensive study of these chants some years ago. May be doing it yet for all I know. She hunted down the old chants among the negroes of the coastal counties, many of whom still live on, and work, the land where their ancestors were slaves.

Parish tried to put these old tunes into written music, with the words, as closely in phonetic spelling as she could. I believe she made some phonograph records, seeking to keep for the future these folk songs of such distinctive American origin.

Don't confuse the chants with negro spirituals. They are entirely different. The negroes often sing them as they "stomp" out a rhythm with their feet. At the same time they clap their hands and all three field, singing. Chant says he put down the words as closely as he could. It is, to him, a chant never heard before. Here it is:

Has Anyone Heard This?

Reflections on these old negro chants were started by receipt of a note from Charlie Williams, enclosing words of such a chant he heard an old negro, in a cotton field, sing. Chant says he put down the words as closely as he could. It is, to him, a chant never heard before. Here it is:

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Another Right NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—It was a fundamental right of the American can husband in most states to beat his wife with a rod no thicker than his thumb. Fortunately, if you insist, that right has been grievously impaired by indirect curtailment. He must not inflict bodily harm, nor has he a right to disturb the neighbors with her screams. Moreover, courts, grand juries and juries have leaned sharply to the belief that the wife in such cases may defend herself by small arms or with the bread knife, and this has surrounded the right with such risks as to prevent the free exercise of the same. This, as Mr. Herbert Hoover and others have observed with alarm, the price of our liberties is constant vigilance lest they be destroyed by stealth.

I would not campaign for the restoration of this particular right in its original beauty, but do venture to suggest that the United States always has been too ready to dash into the home of a neighbor and that the domestic fights of the neighbors command our attention to the neglect of troubles of our own. Americans, in a mood of pure chivalry and pity, drove the Spaniards out of this hemisphere and put an end to their atrocities in Cuba only to see a day when the Cubans, celebrating their liberation from the rule of one of their own patriot heroes, Gerardo Machado, seized prize cattle on his farm and tore poor, unoffending beasts from living limbs in vicarious revenge on the fugitive dictator.

Our Ideas

Americans have med-

Don't Fit Others died in Britain's Irish Problem, in the international affairs of the Russia of the Czar and in racial and religious feuds in the Near East. This country's people attempted to impose Democracy on Europeans who have neither the wish nor the knack for Democratic government and found it as awkward as Hitlerism would be to us. After all that—after a crusade in the heat of which Americans never paused to doubt that Democracy was what those people wanted—there came a day when solemn little Italian boys, marching in Fascist formations, cried with great spirit, "We spit on Democracy!"

Never in the memory of any man living has the air been filled with cries more piteous than those which now rise from the homes of the neighbors

than those which now rise from the strange countries of Europe.

My belief is the heads of these households to be insane, and the horror of the persecution in Hitler's Germany is such that the effects are felt outside. In beating his wife with a rod which seems much bigger than his thumb he is disturbing the peace of the whole world, but, dreadful as his conduct is, the job of volunteer policemen to put an end to it is through the years. On April 1, 1923, he was made foreman of the Morgan Falls plant and on July 31, 1926, he was made foreman of the plant at Tallulah Falls, the biggest hydro plant in Georgia.

Atlanta Businessmen Study Inner Cogs of Industry

Atlanta businessmen yesterday went out to learn what makes the wheels of industry go round. Here is Chamber of Commerce groups, headed by C. F. Palmer, president, watching a workman demonstrate how springs for bed and car seats are turned out on a commercial scale. Palmer stands next to the workman, who is an employee of the Southern Spring Bed Company at 290 Hunter street, S. E. The businessmen also learned how beer and ale are brewed and how shoes are produced. They were on the second of a series of industrial tours sponsored by the industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

Businessmen Tour City Industries, Marvel at Plants' Inner Workings

125 Members of Chamber of Commerce Find Second Inspection Trip Educational as They Visit Brewery, Bed and Shoe Companies.

One hundred and twenty-five Atlanta businessmen yesterday went down into the shops to learn what makes the wheels of industry go round.

They visited the Atlantic Brewery, the Southern Spring Bed Company and the General Shoe Company plants on the second of a series of industrial tours being conducted for members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce by its industrial bureau, of which Ivan Allen is chairman.

To many of the business leaders who made the five-hour trip, it was a revelation. They said they had never before seen the inside of the manufacturing plants that turn out the goods with which all were familiar—after they reach the retail sales outlet.

Several asserted it took the tour to convince them of the importance as an industrial center.

The tour began with luncheon at the Atlantic Company's Courtland street plant. Allen and C. F. Palmer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stressed the importance of businessmen learning processes of production in industry as they welcomed the group, members of whom are members of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the brewery, they saw beer boiling in a copper kettle that held 220 barrels at one time. They toured the plant from the refrigerated cellars to the bottling machines where the product is capped and labeled.

After lunch, they went by special buses to the bed company plant on Hunter street, where they saw beds, mattresses, springs, car seats and studio couches being made.

Shoe Plant Visited.
Mass production of shoes was seen at the General Shoe Company plant at 1251 Caroline street, N. E. They watched the processing of leather and materials until the highly polished shoe was turned out complete and ready for shipment.

The committee which arranged the tour was composed of Allen, chairman; W. H. Barnwell, W. H. Bowen, Lee Davis, Alex Dittler, Carolyn Fraser, Claude Grizzard, Eugene Gunby, Clark Harrison, S. C. Noland, George Bailey, A. J. Vance and Walter Ward. Frank Shaw, secretary of the industrial bureau, arranged the program. Allen and Palmer announced another industrial tour will be sponsored by the bureau soon.

BUSINESS LEADERS CITE RECENT GAINS

Railroad and Motor Company Executives Foresee Continued Advance.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—(P)—Two of the nation's industrial leaders announced definite recovery gains in their businesses in interviews here today.

They were Harold S. Vanderbilt, director and chairman of the finance committee of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, and D. E. Ahrens, vice president and general sales manager of the Cadillac motor car division of General Motors.

"Railroads, generally, will be able to remain solvent unless an unexpected business slump strikes the nation," Vanderbilt said. "It looks a good deal more hopeful now than last spring. We have noted a favorable increase in recent months, and indications point to a continuance."

Said Ahrens: "We expected good business but the way orders are coming in for new automobiles, it has far surpassed expectations. Last Monday, with $5,950,000 in dealer orders, we did the biggest day's business in our history. And the most heartening part of it, that while there are certain brighter spots such as California and Texas, prosperity is general throughout the nation."

NEWMAN BUYS SITE FOR NEW CITY HALL

Old Berry Home, With 250x 300-Foot Lot, Is Acquired by Council.

NEWMAN, Ga., Oct. 20.—Plans leading to the construction of Newman's new $105,000 municipal building by December 1 were spurred this week as Charles W. Farmer, head of the council committee in charge, announced a site for the city hall has been purchased.

The home and lot of Mrs. W. C. Wright, known as the old Berry home, was purchased at a cost of $12,500, Mr. Farmer said. The site is on Jefferson street, a block from Court square, and the lot is 250x 300 feet. The three-story brick building, built in 1883 by William Byrd Berry, banker and landowner, and purchased many years later by the late Congressman W. C. Wright, is a Newman landmark. It is one of the most unusual residential structures in the state, having solid brick walls from basement to roof, each room a separate unit.

Legal action toward validation of the $60,000 bonds voted to add to $48,000 from PWA funds to finance the city hall was started this week, Mr. Farmer said.

Bell, director of the budget.

Succeeding Collins will be William T. Heffelfinger, who began work in the treasury in 1917 as a messenger boy.

PEARL WHITE'S WILL HELPS POOR ARTISTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(P)—Pearl White, pioneer heroine of thriller movies who died August 4 in Paris, directed in a super-seeding will filed today that a considerable part of her fortune be given to "charities taking care of artists."

Charitable bequests totaling 15,000 pounds (about $75,000) were enumerated in the will which was drawn June 22, 1938. The previous will was dated June 11, 1937.

Collective farms in the Ukraine and other central Soviet regions are growing plants that will produce rubber, with reported success.

Jews in Hungary FEAR NAZI GAINS

Coming Events Cast Dark Shadow Over Vulnerable Hebrew Population.

The plight of the Jewish population in Hungary, as Hitler drives ahead with his plans to dominate the entire Danube river area, is described here by a noted foreign correspondent who is making a special study of the central European situation following the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

By WALTER DURANTY.
(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution and the North American News-press Alliance, Inc.)

BUDAPEST, Oct. 18.—(By Wireless)—Coming events cast a dark shadow over the Jewish population of Hungary, which for many centuries has enjoyed a relatively privileged—or at least assured—position.

True, the Jews suffered much, and unjustly, during the "white" reprisals after the Bela Kun red regime 19 years ago. Subsequently, however, Hungary reverted to its earlier tolerance and today a great part of Hungarian wealth is in Jewish hands, with the exception of large estates, many of which are heavily mortgaged.

Their riches are already a source of anxiety for more than 300,000 Jews who form a third of Budapest's population, when they look up the Danube and see what is happening in Vienna. But the prospects of the remaining 250,000 Jews, who live in villages and small urban communities, is gray still because it is complicated by a political factor. In the Hungarian countryside, as in parts of Poland and Rumania, the Jews had prospered sufficiently to own most of the worth-owning villages, which often are miserably poor. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that the peasants had exchanged feudal for financial servitude and that the Jews, instead of the aristocrats, had become their masters.

In such a state of affairs, Nazism offers a terrific appeal as providing nothing less than liquidation of debts by eliminating the creditors. It is not surprising, therefore, that Nazism has made vast strides in the rural areas or that the American and other foreign consulates are receiving hundreds of applications daily for visas from Jews who see what is coming.

Julia and Charlotte Chapman To Spend Thanksgiving at Sea

By Sally Forth.

ATLANTANS are rapidly making plans to spend the Thanksgiving holidays hither and yon. News is constantly drifting to Sally of interesting trips now in preparatory stages.

But today reveals the most exciting and unusual Thanksgiving plans Sally has yet heard. Julia and Charlotte Chapman will celebrate Thanksgiving Day on board ship en route to Copenhagen, Denmark! Of course you remember Edith Chapman, elder member of the Chapman clan, whose marriage to Sydney Williams, of Copenhagen, was one of the high lights of last Yuletide season. You have, no doubt, guessed that the purpose of the Atlanta belles' voyage is to visit Edith and Syd.

Julia and Charlotte, attractive brunette daughters of the Ed Chapmans, will bid goodbye to Atlanta friends on November 15, and leave by motor for New York. Ed Chapman Jr. has been called upon to demonstrate his "brotherly love" by driving his pretty sisters to the scene of their departure—a request which doubtless was received with pleasure.

The trio will daily in Washington long enough to say "hello" to friends of Charlotte's. The threesome will then proceed to New York, where the girls sail aboard the Scanyork on November 18.

Warm clothes will predominate in their wardrobes, for the boat sails through the icy northern waters of the British Isles and down to Copenhagen. Thirteen exciting days at sea await the Atlantans, who will be met by Edith and Syd at Copenhagen. After leaving Denmark the sisters will visit the capitals of several other foreign countries, where they will renew friendships with former Atlantans who are now residing abroad.

In England they will see Joan Batten, of Albany, former classmate of Charlotte's at the University of Georgia. In Florence they will call on Mary Noble, of Atlanta, and in Germany they will stop at the University of Heidelberg, where a close friend of Charlotte's is enrolled. Nothing short of spring will induce them to return to their native country.

THE five daughters of the John S. Spalding household are so widely scattered that they keep a sort of round-robin letter in constant circulation.

You see, Constance, who is now Mrs. Albert Anderson Jr., lives in far-away Toronto, while Mrs. Cliff Sheffield, the former Betsy Spalding, resides in Memphis. Sally, who married John Mooney, makes her home in Statesboro, and the two remaining sisters, Mrs. Croom Partridge and Mrs. Robert Bryan, are residents of Atlanta. When Mrs. Spalding writes one of her daughters, she includes news that will be of interest to each of the five. Then she starts the letter out on what she calls the Toronto-Memphis-Atlanta-Statesboro hook-up, and as it reaches each daughter, she adds a page or two of news. In this novel manner, each of the quintet of sisters keeps up with the others, however far away she may live.

FRIENDS and families of Atlanta belles "off at school" are eagerly awaiting their return for the Thanksgiving holidays. Though confident that Mary Elizabeth Beers and Elsa McCall are having a grand time elsewhere, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Beers and Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCall are to be deprived of their daughters' presence during the holidays. For Mary Elizabeth and Elsa have been invited to the Thanksgiving house party to be given at Cornell University, in Ithaca, N. Y.

The girls, who are students at Bradford Junior College in Bradford, Mass., are having a grand fall combining social activities with intellectual pursuits.

They attended the recent football game between Harvard and Cornell universities in Cambridge, Mass., where they were attractive spectators among the thrilled gridiron fans.

Last week end Mary Elizabeth attended the Army-Harvard football game in Boston as the guest of a handsome West Point cadet. Later she was one of the most sought-after partners at the annual ball at which Harvard students were hosts to Army men.

Marriage Is Announced

Mr. Knox Leaves For Former Home.

Fitzhugh Knox Sr. left this week for Richmond, Va., his former home, to attend the annual meeting of the Society of the Cincinnati, to be held on October 22 in the old hall of the house of delegates, State Capitol building. This room is the home of the oldest continuous legislative body in the Anglo-Saxon world, being the same room in which the society first met in 1789.

Before returning to Atlanta Mr. Knox will visit his cousin's home near by, Appomattox, the home of the Eppes family, which is probably the oldest in the United States, having been in the Eppes family since 1635, when Francis Eppes built his first home. In 1751 the present home was built using some of the material of the first house. This continuous occupancy by members of the Eppes family for nearly 300 years is a record for Virginia and probably for America.

The meeting of the society will close with a dinner to be held at the Commonwealth Club.

Old-Time Whist Play Is Modified for Use in Modern Bridge Game

The Vaccinated Person Needn't Fear Contagion

By Dr. William Brady.

In a backwoods hamlet in a northern state lives a man who doesn't believe in vaccination. The man refused to have his young son vaccinated. When the son tried to enter the public school in his district the school authorities refused to admit the child to school. You know the way the racket is worked. Under a sort of reciprocity statute or law the authorities then had the man where they could put the screws on him. They arrested him for failing to keep his child in school. The man took it on the chin, refused to pay a fine, went to jail for five days.

The rignarole has been worked many times in the past year or so and the man has spent more than a year in jail rather than give in to the trick politicians who are responsible for the sorry joke, and still they have accomplished absolutely nothing for the benefit of the community.

Not even the most brazen medical politician, health commissioner or sanitary officer can cite a just or adequate reason for such persecution of a citizen. No intelligent or honest physician can maintain that it matters one little damn whether that man's boy is vaccinated or not, that is, to any one else than the boy and his parent or guardian. If all the children who are admitted to school are vaccinated, if all the teachers, school janitors and others who visit the school are vaccinated, what is there to worry about, even if some one with smallpox should come to school and expose everybody?

Nothing at all, if we are sincere in our belief and teaching about smallpox and vaccination. We believe and teach that vaccination protects one against smallpox. If we are properly vaccinated ourselves, surely we are not concerned about coming in contact with any one who has not been vaccinated, or even with any one who is actually coming down with or ill of smallpox.

That the health authorities of the particular community where this wretched persecution is carried on, do acquiesce in the shameful performance is hard to believe. Are they, the medical and health authorities in this case, so subservient to the politicians and the crooks that they haven't the decency or honor to speak out and lend the weight of their authority to the reform of the vicious laws that permit that sort of travesty? I have received several appeals from persons associated with the defense of the man under persecution—they asked me to volunteer to testify. But these appeals have been mixed up with other propaganda of which I do not and cannot approve, so I have not responded to the appeals.

If the medical profession and the sanitary profession desire to retain the confidence and good will of the American public we can ill afford to perpetrate any such tricks as these authorities are perpetrating in the name of public welfare.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Wheat.

Following suggestion in your pamphlet I obtained some wheat. Had it ground coarsely. Wife makes recipes given in your monograph, and we're enjoying it immensely. My doctor approves, and it seems to make less insulin sufficient to keep me sugar-free, just as you suggested. L. S.

Answer.—Vitamin E complex, of which wheat is one of the richest natural food sources, promotes carbohydrate metabolism and in diabetes often enables the patient to get along with less insulin. Send stamped envelope bearing your address, for monograph "Wheat to Eat" which tells why it is healthful and gives recipes for using it. (Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

The Play Known As a Suit Echo

By Harold Sharpsteen.

All seasoned contract players, defending against suit bids, today employ the conventional high-low signal to convey to partners their ability to win or trump the third round of a suit lead. The play is known as a suit echo.

Back in the days of whist, players employed a handy gadget known as "three-card-peter" to signal partners that they held three adverse trumps. A defending partner, holding for example, 7, 4, 3 of opponent's trumps, played the four to the first trick, following with the three or the second round, to indicate possession of one more adverse trump.

With slight modification the "three-card-peter" signal may be made more useful to contract players.

In present-day contract the high-low trump echo is used only to signal ability to ruff some side suit. The following deal illustrates the modern use of the trump echo:

North.
S-Q 10 5
H-A Q 4
D-Q 9 3
C-J 10 7 2

West.
S-A 8
H-9 7 6 5
D-A 6 5
C-K Q 8 3

East.
S-7 4 3
H-10 8 2
D-J 10 8 4 2
C-6 4

South.
S-K J 9 6 2
H-K J 3
D-K 7
C-A P 5

Contract four spades. West opens the Club King, East plays the Club 6, South winning with the Ace. South leads the Spade King, West ducking. East plays the Spade 4. West wins the second round of trumps with the Ace. East plays the Spade 3 to the second round.

East has completed a high-low echo, signaling to West ability to ruff some suit. The only possibility appears to be clubs. West leads the Club Queen. East plays the Club 4, incidentally completing a come-on suit echo. West continues clubs, East trumping the third round.

East has completed a high-low trump echo, signaling to West ability to ruff some suit. The only possibility appears to be clubs. West leads the Club Queen, East plays the Club 4, incidentally completing a come-on suit echo. West continues clubs, East trumping the third round.

The contract is defeated as West cashes the diamond ace. Without the trump-echo, East and West may not have defeated four spades.

Til tomorrow.

Every Room May Have A Clock

By Elizabeth Boykin.

It's time we took a little time to think about time. About clocks, to get right down to brass tacks. How many of us are carrying a 99-cent drug store clock from one room to the other? A clock like that doesn't mean much one way or the other. Certainly it doesn't look like much and I've yet to see one that kept very good time.

As a matter of fact, a clock should be a decorative part of every room as well as an accurate timekeeper. I blame the clock manufacturers for this somewhat. They haven't really done right by us lately. They'll answer right back and say we don't buy nicer clocks so it's our fault after all. Mebbe so.

I've been digging around trying to find out just what types of good looking clocks there are available—clocks worthy of being a decorative focal point in a room. Because I'm for utility with decoration whenever possible—so why isn't a handsome clock a better idea than a candlestick for a mantel piece or chest?—certainly it serves a more useful purpose. The most interesting modern clocks I've found are the grandfather clocks for half the price of fine old ones. An imposing clock like that would practically furnish the average hall. There are reproductions of old banno clocks too that would do exciting things to most any wall. They are as authentic in design as they are accurate in time keeping.

The smaller clocks that I've seen and liked included one in an antique silver finish and in oblong shape. The clock is at one end, while a hand-chased design of deer and trees at the other end has a certain austere formality about it—it suggests itself for use on a mantel or some other important place.

A smaller jaunty clock is a new one saw for a desk. It must have been inspired by old-time paper weights—as a matter of fact it's a combination clock and paper weight. It has one of those pieces of heavy round glass in place of a crystal, while the face showing through this is a brilliant emerald green. Of course there are ever so many table clocks of crystal, wood and chromium in modern design.

But alas and alack, few deliciously fussy Dresden clocks turn up among the new ones and how I love such china confections. And why doesn't some smart store develop a handsome sunburst wall clock—copied after those antique ones with gilt rays running out from the clock center—tell me that wouldn't bring distinction to a wall!

Here's a Regal-Looking Lipstick To Wear With the New Purples

By LILLIAN MAE.

Are you going into purples this season? They're very lovely, indeed, but you must remember that your make-up must not clash with your wardrobe.

A true-red lipstick, for instance—and I love them—just won't fit with a purple dress. Most all of the cosmetic houses have supplied your need, for, of course, they foresee it along with the new fashions in clothes.

The product of one house—a skillful blending of a red and mauve which will reflect a lovely purple light in your eyes, enhance the rose-flush of your cheeks and give just the right complement to any shade of purple you may wear—comes in two finishes. Yes, even lipsticks have finishes.

One is a subtly alluring dulcet-toned finish, and the other gives lips a highly lustrous, dazzling finish. Just ask me, and I'll tell you the name of whichever you prefer.

For Red, Chapped Skin.

It's an old-timer, but just as good now as it was years ago when it was new. Pleasant and easy to use, it prevents red, raw winter hands, even when they have to constantly be in and out of dish-water. If wind and weather have already made a headway, you can soften and beautify your skin with this lotion.

If your skin is very dry, it can be used as a powder base—but must be used very sparingly this way. As a body-rub, it gives the skin a feeling of all-over fastidious loveliness. Rubbed on heels at the shoe line, it helps prevent the ugly top-of-heel callouses. But all in all, it can't be beat for softening hang-nails, catching finger-tips and rough elbows, as a preventive and a balm.

It is perfectly safe to use on babies' skin—so it must be safe for you. Men, especially the safe-of-door sports type, can, by using, prevent or heal painful skin-cracking due to cold and exposure. It has never been an expensive product, but I've just discovered that for a limited time the manufacturer is putting out the regular-sized bottle packaged with a smaller one—all for the regular price. So I figure, it's time to stock up now, while autumn is beginning to take its first toll of beautiful hands, arms and faces.

If you like photos, I'll give you the names of these items for today and the stores at which they may be purchased. If you live out of town, I'll be glad to have you write me, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Hollywood Columnist Brings More News About the Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20.—The usual large white fence has been erected around Garbo's newly rented house in Brentwood—which makes it a conspicuous target for the tourists. I suppose that's why, eh, Greta? I guess Cooper lost his temper for the first time in months when his architect wanted to show a friend the plans of his house. Gary is still afraid of kidnappers—not for himself, but for his little daughter, Maria, who has yet to be photographed. Anyway, Maria will be saved the embarrassment of seeing herself as a nude infant on a rug when she reaches the age of blushing. . . . IMMACULATE POT HOLDERS. Pot-holders have become so attractive that we often think of them as decorations instead of the useful pieces of kitchen equipment they really are. Good pot-holders have three important qualifications: they are large enough to protect the hands completely, flexible enough to hold things easily, and easy to wash. Like everything else in the kitchen, pot-holders should always be immaculate.

Don't Get Stiff While You're Getting Supple

By Ida Jean Kain.

Now that you have made up your mind to exercise like fury and trim down your waist for the new frocks, you run the risk of coming out second best in the bout with long unused muscles. The first day's workout may leave you stiff and sore for a week—unless you have come across the trick of putting Epsom salts into a hot bath and soaking out the soreness.

The right proportion seems to be half a pound of the Epsom salts to the bath, which should be comfortably hot. Stay in the tub about 15 minutes and you will feel better than new. The beauty of this bath is not that you can expect it to dissolve your excess fat because it won't, but that it enables you to start right out with a rousing 15 to 20 minutes of exercise and never feel a twinge.

After the first week your muscles will be on friendlier terms with exercise and you can forego the bath if you like. Until that time, follow your workout immediately with the Epsom salts tub.

If yours is the average figure, you will need to slim about three inches off the waistline. Paris decrees the tiny waist for you, and you should have an eight-inch difference between the bust and waist measurements to conform to this popular fashion. Don't despair of a waistline three or four inches too large. By going right into vigorous exercise you can shear off the waistline excess at the rate of an inch a fortnight and here are the exercises that will do it—but don't forget that hot salts bath!

For these exercises, which you take sitting on the floor, you will need a stick or wand about one yard long. The wand keeps the back straight and the seat on the floor keeps you from moving the hips so that the entire movement is concentrated at the waistline.

Here we go. . . . Position: Sitting on the floor with the stick behind the back and tucked into the crook of the elbows, hands on the hips.

Movement: Whirl from one side to the other, twisting vigorously at the waist.

Position: Grasp the wand with the hands about six inches apart, and hold it high overhead.

Movement: Bend sharply to the side until the end of the wand rests on the floor. Stretch hands overhead again, and bend to other side. Repeat at least 12 times and finish the exercise with a rotary movement, keeping the wand overhead, arms close to the head, and circling down to one side, around and up again.

It's every woman for her own waistline this season, and these exercises are designed to give that group of waistline muscles a real workout. You can be perceptibly slimmer in a week.

MY DAY "Muddy Mississippi" Looks Clear and Blue

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

QUINCY, Ill.—It was rather pleasant to sleep in a hotel last night after having spent the previous five nights on trains. Strange to say, I rather missed the motion of the train, which shows how quickly we adapt ourselves to circumstances.

When we drove up in a slight drizzling rain to the civic center in Hammond, Ind., where I lectured last evening, it looked very big to me. But my hosts were so kind that I regained composure before I went in to find a very delightful audience. I was told they had been running this forum for 15 years and at times had had a great deal of difficulty keeping it going, but this year forums have suddenly become popular and the demand for season tickets is overwhelming. Funny how fashions will change, even in forums.

We left Chicago this morning at 10:30. It was pleasant to find that Mrs. Cotsworth and Mrs. Flynn were to be our hostesses again and that Mr. Cotsworth was going with us as far as Keokuk, Iowa. The train waited over some time in Burlington, Iowa, so Mrs. Carl Pryor arranged to take us in a seven-passenger car for a very beautiful drive which allowed us to rejoin the train in Keokuk. We stopped for one minute to see my daughter-in-law Ruth's aunt and uncle and I even enjoyed a glimpse of their beautiful home on the bluffs above the Mississippi river. The view from the train through the Iowa countryside to the little town of Nauvoo, Ill., which was a Mormon settlement, later French and then German. The thing which impressed me most is the amount of work which the Mormons accomplished in the short seven years of their occupancy. The photograph of Joseph Smith shows a very handsome young man, but he also must have been an extremely capable gentleman, for the mansion in which he spent the last year of his life is still standing and is a house of real pretensions. There are enough old buildings standing to make the restoration of this little town interesting and it is now planned to turn the part down by the river into a state park.

From here we drove along the river into Keokuk. The drive is lovely and crossing the river gave me an excellent view of the dam which I had never seen before. We saw our train making its way down the other side of the river and if Mr. Cotsworth had not been with us I should have been very nervous, but I think they only held the train about two minutes for us.

The railroad follows the river and I am receiving a very pleasant surprise, for I had always supposed the Mississippi was a brown and extremely muddy stream, but today it looks clear and blue. I caught a glimpse of an old riverboat churning up water at the stern. It looked extremely clumsy and made me think of an old lady with a bustle in the style of the 1890's.

No Problem in Making Slip Covers the Easy Pin-On Way

CHOOSE FROM SMART TRIMMINGS—EASY TO SEW.

Do you have to look at that dowdy chair another winter? Indeed no—not while it's so easy to make a slip cover for it, smartly trimmed, neatly fitted.

Inspiring really what you can do with the new slip cover trimmings. Use them as a decorative outline for the seams, to perk up flounce or skirt, to accent the color scheme of your room.

The slip cover we're pictured gives snap to a living room with lots of beige and brown—for it's terra cotta patterned in beige, with seam bindings and skirt fringe of beige.

Simple to sew on bindings over plain seams as our picture shows. The fringe you can attach with a neat running stitch.

Or accent seams with cord. Handsome is plum cord on a gaily flowered cretonne with touches of plum. Whip the cord over the seams, on the right side of the slip cover.

Another good seam accent is welting or covered cord. Insert

TODAY'S CHARM TIP

It's not the color scheme or the perfect period decor of your home that impresses people. It is the warmth of your welcome, the comfort of chairs, and the easy grace of yourself as hostess that impresses.

A Form-Fitting Slip by Barbara Bell

If your slips don't fit your form this season, they certainly will not do right by your slim, doll-waisted frocks. Well, here's a design for slips that will give you a perfect foundation for dresses that must fit without a line or wrinkle. Cleverly cut in at the waist, made with a bra-top for firmness and slight uplift, it has such smooth, beautiful slimmings that you'll want at least half a dozen slips like this.

You can make it so easily—the pattern includes a detailed sew chart to guide beginners, and is very simple to follow. It will cost very little to have a whole wardrobe of slips in luxurious materials, when you make your own with 1909-B. Choose gleaming satins, pure silk crepes, and have at least one rustic taffeta. The pattern is perforated for a low back.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1909-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 42, 44 and 46. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 16 (34) requires 2 3-4 yards of 39 inch material. 1 yard ribbon for shoulder straps.

Price of pattern 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell fall and winter fashion pattern book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns.

Miss Arnold Weds Walter Penland Jr.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Arnold and Walter Penland Jr. was solemnized last evening at 8:30 at Grant Park Methodist church.

On the altar was a graceful arrangement of white chrysanthemums and Easter lilies and white tapers held in seven-branch candelabra.

James Penland, brother of the groom, was best man, and groomsmen were Walter Arnold Jr., brother of the bride; Robert Brown, Howard Miller and Richard Fraser.

Miss Polly Arnold, maid of honor, and Mrs. Edward Holmes, matron of honor, were gowned in aqua-colored taffeta dresses designed on old-fashioned lines. Matching hats completed the costumes and they carried nosegays of pastel flowers. Little Jacqueline Baldwin was flower girl and she wore a white taffeta dress made along the same lines as the other attendants. She carried a small nosegay of pastel flowers.

The bridesmaids, Misses June Swaggerty, Ruth Wallace, Elizabeth Copeland and Mrs. Harry Miller, of Athens, Ala., wore gowns of gold taffeta and carried nosegays of pastel flowers.

The bride entered with her father, Walter E. Arnold, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of white slipper satin made on princess lines. Her cap was of duchess lace held to her hair with a beautiful veil of tulle and lace and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and white roses.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Arnold entertained at a reception at their home on Atlanta avenue. White roses and lilies of the valley were used artistically in the dining room decorations. The three-tiered wedding cake was placed on the table which was adorned with a lace cloth and centered with a bowl of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames C. H. Bruton, E. O. Bateson, T. E. Penland and I. M. Mayer.

After the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip and upon their return they will reside in Atlanta.

2 PARTY NOMINEES EXPECTED TO RUN FOR M'DUFFIE POST

'Fair Elections' Termed Issue by Winner of Legislative Race Recount.

THOMSON, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—J. Quinn West, winner over incumbent Randall Evans Jr., in a recount of Democratic primary ballots for McDuffie county representative, declared today the issue was "fair elections."

"The issue is whether we shall have fair elections in McDuffie county," he said in a public statement, "and whether the voters of the county will vote for the Democratic nominee as declared. I am counting on my friends in seeing this matter through."

A three-man board appointed Chairman James L. Gillis, of the state Democratic executive committee, announced last night a re-tabulation of the September 14 primary ballots gave West victory 727-724, a shift of 14 votes from the original total announced favoring Evans.

West thus became the state committee candidate. Evans planned to start stumping Saturday as the nominee of the McDuffie county Democratic committee. The representative, a Rivers administration opponent, charged the recount was a "plot" to keep him from the legislature and also from running against Roy V. Harris for house speaker.

Fight in House Seen.

Prospects were that there would be two "Democratic nominees" on the general election ballot November 8. Political observers said the fight might be carried later to the house, which is the judge of its own membership.

West said he issued his statement, presenting the real facts to the public, because "I wish to be fair to every one, even to my opponent."

"It is not only a matter of justice to myself," he said, "but this matter has developed into a question of honesty of the primary elections of the state. Randall Evans Jr. is taking the attitude of being the injured party, whereas up to now, I have considered myself the injured party. He has stated that he was not interested in the result of the recount one way or another, but it seems that he is now very much interested in the result and is trying to make capital of it, after having been declared the loser by three votes."

Evidence Offered.

West reviewed circumstances of his contest, described the McDuffie county executive committee as "mostly supporters of my opponent" and said he appealed when its members refused him a hearing. He said both contestants were present, "offering evidence for nearly two hours" at the state committee hearing in Macon.

"The state committee made its report to the convention recommending a recount," West stated. "Not only of the ballots cast in the representative race, but also of all ballots cast for the Democratic executive committee of McDuffie county. None of the votes for the latter had been counted until the recount on October 19, at which time a new county committee was elected."

"Since Mr. Evans has publicly stated that he was not interested in the count and that he would not have a representative present, the committeemen did not call off the count because of his absence, or the absence of his representative."

West said a "large number of representative citizens were present and I have been informed that not a single person touched the ballots except the three committeemen."

Bulldogs Add N.Y.U. in '39, Columbia, Dartmouth in 1940-1

EN ROUTE TO WORCESTER, MASS., WITH GEORGIA, Oct. 20.—From 1939 through 1941, Georgia will play two intercollegiate games each season, and the schedules arranged for 1940 through 1943 are as attractive as it has been possible to arrange.

On the intersectional bill of fare for next season are Holy Cross, in Athens, and New York University in New York.

In 1940, Georgia will play Columbia and Dartmouth in New York. In 1941, Columbia again will be played in New York and Dartmouth will come to Athens.

Ole Miss appears on the schedule in 1940, 1941, 1942 and 1943. A series will be started with Alabama in 1941.

Both the southern and intersectional schedule will reach a peak of attractiveness after next season. And the schedule for next season is more attractive than in years.

It will be noted that Mercer does not reappear on next year's schedule. It is understood that the Bears and Bulldogs will not play each other.

Professor W. O. Payne, athletic director, has been very busy scheduling games for the future and it is believed the result of his efforts will be pleasing to all concerned.

Coach Joel Hunt, also looking ahead, thinks material will fit the demands of the schedules.

At any rate, there is a chance for national recognition and Georgia's return to big-time intersectional competition will be heartily welcomed by the home folks, if not by their eastern foes, who have a hearty respect for the Bulldogs.

HARTMAN GREET'S OLD MATES.

In Washington, the Georgia party temporarily parted company with Governor and Mrs. Rivers and son, Ed Jr. The Governor, who will rejoin the Bulldogs in New Haven, really had some business in Washington.

Charley Reed, former chairman of the state Democratic committee, also on the trip, remained in Washington with Governor Rivers and will accompany him to New Haven.

But, while the Bulldogs missed part of their party, they were delighted to be joined by Wild Bill Hartman, who was the hero of the Georgia-Holy Cross game last year.

Hartman boarded the train at Washington and rode with the boys to Philadelphia for the practice.

Wild Bill is a sensation of the pro ranks this year. He is passing and running star for the Washington Redskins, pro football's most colorful outfit.

Hartman has been stealing most of Sammy Baugh's thunder. Slinging Sammy was supposed to be one of the world's best passers but Hartman has had a much better season to date.

The boys had a great time renewing acquaintances with last year's Georgia captain. Hartman was a great leader.

When he left the Holy Cross game late in the final period, the fans stood up and cheered him to the echo. He had given a magnificent performance.

Hartman urged the Bulldogs to atone for that one-point loss.

OLE MISS, 'CATS PLAY IN ATHENS ON '40 SCHEDULE

Tide Replaces Kentucky in Series Starting at Birmingham in 1941.

EN ROUTE TO WORCESTER, MASS., WITH GEORGIA TEAM, Oct. 20.—Getting back onto the main football highway after a one-year detour through the hinterland where dwell some of the weaker grid teams, Georgia's Bulldogs next year will clash with the Holy Crusaders again (this time in Athens), and will take on the N. Y. U. Violets in New York. Kentucky has also been added to the list. N. Y. U. replaced Mercer. Two dates, September 4—opening day—and November 4, are still unfilled.

Georgia and N. Y. U. will be resuming relations disrupted since 1933.

Variety is given the 1940 schedule with the placing of Columbia's Lions and Dartmouth—two of the east's strongest—in spots occupied by Holy Cross and N. Y. U. in 1939. Both will be met in New York. Also Harry Mehre's Ole Miss eleven will make an appearance at Athens on October 12, 1940.

TOUGH 1941 SCHEDULE.

The 1941 schedule is still more imposing, what with the addition of Alabama in place of Kentucky in a game at Birmingham. Columbia will again be played in New York. Dartmouth will journey to Athens.

The schedules for 1942 and 1943 are more than half completed and each will include one and possibly two eastern opponents. Tulane appears at Athens in the fourth game of the 1942 season, and Alabama comes to Athens for the sixth game of the Bulldog schedule. Three games are still pending. One or possibly two of these will be intersectionals.

The 1943 schedule is basically the same as 1942, according to plans.

With very few exceptions, Georgia's method of long-range scheduling already has the football programs for 1939, 1940 and 1941 complete.

BIG-TIME SCHEDULE.

It may readily be seen that the schedules for the next few years signal the Bulldog's return to big-time intersectional competition.

The 1939 schedule follows:

September 30—Open.

October 7—Furman, Greenville.

October 14—Holy Cross, Athens.

October 21—Kentucky, Lexington.

October 28—N. Y. U., New York.

November 4—Game to be played in Athens.

November 11—Florida, Jacksonville.

November 18—South Carolina, Athens.

November 25—Auburn, Columbia.

December 2—Tech, Atlanta.

December 9—Miami, at Miami.

The 1940 schedule:

September 28—Open date.

October 5—South Carolina, Columbia.

October 12—Ole Miss, at Athens.

October 19—Columbia, New York.

October 26—Kentucky, Athens.

November 2—Auburn, Columbia.

November 9—Florida, Jacksonville.

November 16—Tulane, New Orleans.

November 23—Dartmouth, New York.

November 30—Tech, Athens.

December 6—Miami, at Miami.

The 1941 schedule:

September 27—Open date.

October 4—South Carolina, Athens.

October 11—Mississippi, Athens.

October 18—Columbia, New York.

October 25—Alabama, Birmingham.

November 1—Auburn, Columbia.

November 8—Florida, Jacksonville.

November 15—Game pending.

November 22—Dartmouth, Athens.

November 29—Tech, Atlanta.

December 5—Game pending.

No less a team than Alabama replaces Kentucky on the 1941 schedule. When the two pending dates are filled this schedule will be tough enough, too.

The 1942 schedule:

September 28—Open date.

October 5—South Carolina, Columbia.

October 12—Ole Miss, Memphis.

October 19—Tulane, Athens.

October 26—Eastern game pending.

October 31—Alabama, Athens.

November 7—Florida, Jacksonville.

November 14—Game away from home pending.

Bob Neyland Denies He'll Go to L. S. U.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19. (AP)—Major Bob Neyland said today he had read newspaper stories to the effect he would replace Bernie Moore as football coach at Louisiana State University next year, but denied there was any basis for the reports.

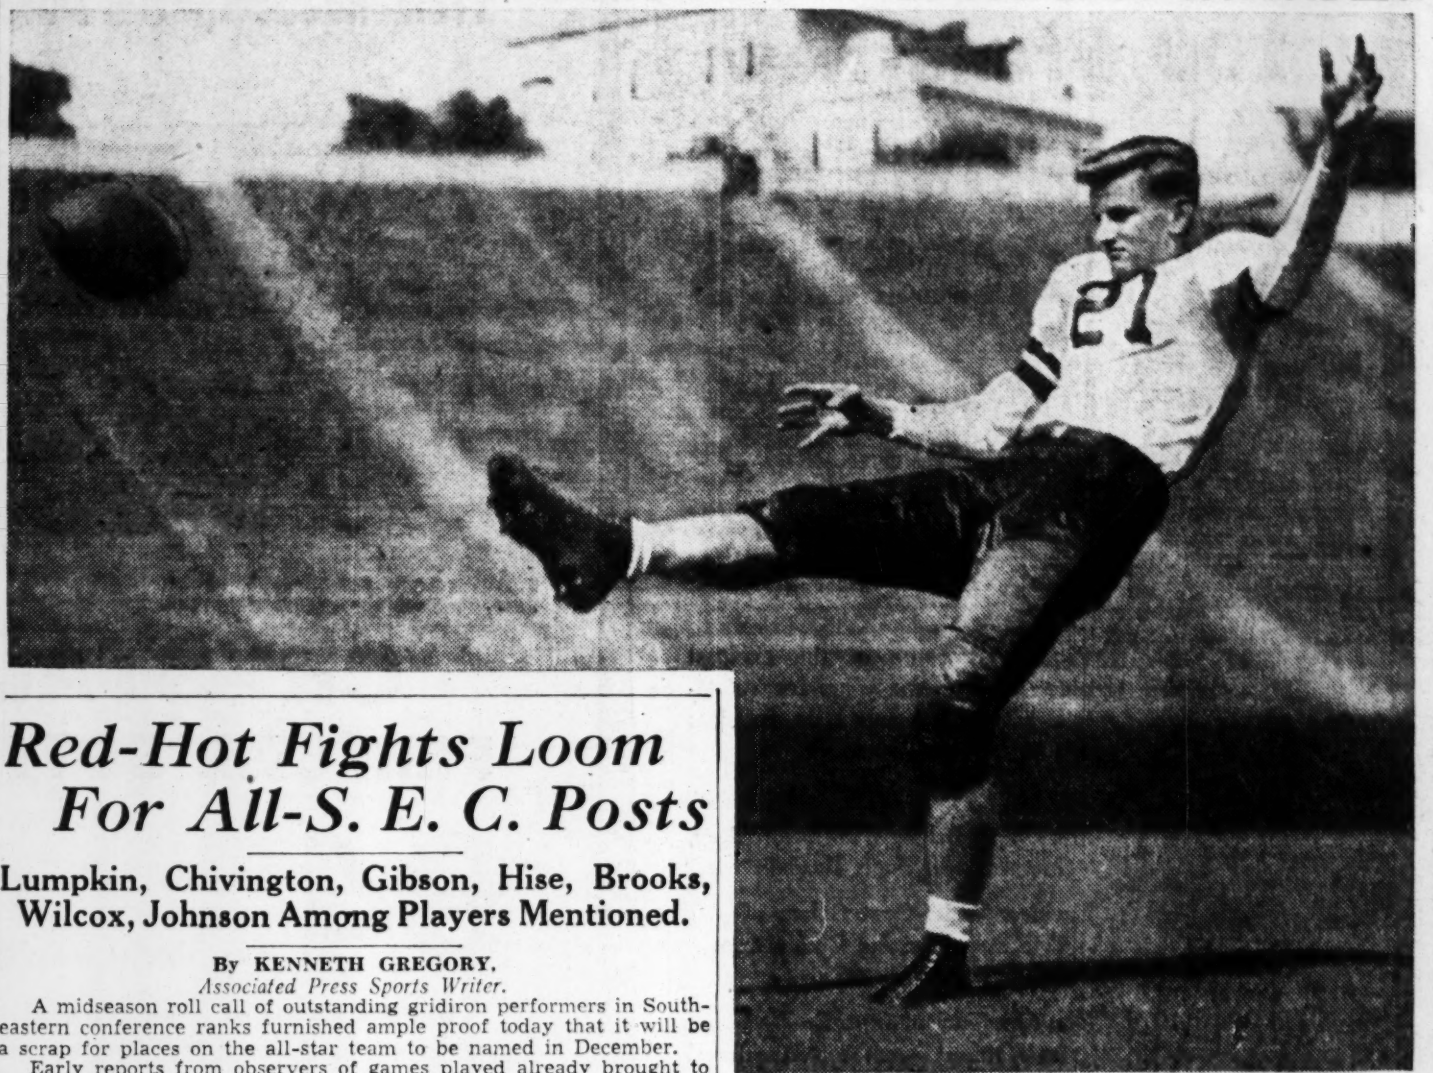

"I am well satisfied at Tennessee," said the former army engineer who is now in his 121st year as Tennessee's football coach. "I hope Tennessee is well satisfied with me, and if so I expect to remain here many years."

Neyland added he had not been approached by any representative of L. S. U. regarding the coaching post there.

BOOM! BULLDOGS' PUNTER READY TO GO AGAINST CRUSADERS

Harry Stevens, Ole Miss punter, is back in harness after being out a couple of weeks because of injuries. He is the team's best punter and will play an important part in Georgia's game with Holy Cross tomorrow in Worcester, Mass. Stevens is an Atlanta boy.

Red-Hot Fights Loom For All-S. E. C. Posts

Lumpkin, Chivington, Gibson, Hise, Brooks, Wilcox, Johnson Among Players Mentioned.

By KENNETH GREGORY.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

A midseason roll call of outstanding gridiron performers in Southern conference ranks furnished ample proof today that it will be a scrap for places on the all-star team to be named in December.

Early reports from observers of games played already brought to hand a classy array of prospects for the mythical eleven. No position was lacking in candidates for the honor roll lineup.

There was one carry-over from the 1937 team, Big Eddie Gatto, Louisiana State tackle, and if the 205-pound bulwark of the Tiger line maintains the play he has shown in games thus far he will not only be hard to keep off the conference eleven but is likely to gain All-America honors.

At this stage of the 1938 gridiron show, the Southeastern has two other candidates for the All-America team in George Cato, Tennessee's ace halfback, and Warren (Bronco) Brunner, Tulane's great halfback. These players have only to maintain the pace already set to receive serious consideration.

FINE BALL CARRIERS.

There is an overflow of fine ball carriers in the conference, numbering among them all scholastic classes as well as triple-threats. The backfield of the All-Star team is extremely likely to produce close balloting.

Barrett Booth, of Louisiana State, Lunsford Hollins, of Vanderbilt, and Kimble Bradley, of Mississippi, all seniors, are the mid-season ranking candidates for the quarterback berth. All have performed capably under fire. Sophomore Neil Cavette, of Georgia Tech, has shown promise.

Besides Brunner and Cato, the leading halfbacks on early returns are Roy Huggins, Vanderbilt sophomore; Guy (Cotton) Milner, of Louisiana State; Herky Moseley, of Alabama; Spec Kelly, of Auburn; Sonny Bruce, Mississippi State sophomore; Billy Gibson, of Georgia Tech; Parker Hall, of Mississippi; and Dameron Davis, of Kentucky.

HIS IS STAR.

Others gaining mention for their play thus far included John Crabtree, of Louisiana State; Harry Hays, Buddy Banker, and Fred Casberry, of Tulane; James H. Stettin and Charley Erdman, of Louisiana State; George Zivich, of Alabama; Dick McGowan, Auburn; Earl Hise, of Georgia; Bob Fox, and Bob Andridge, Tennessee sophomores; Carl Combs, of Kentucky; and Jack Nix, of Mississippi State.

Howard Ector, of Georgia Tech, who calls the Engineer signals from the fullback position and plays with little relief, is one of the outstanding candidates for that position. Leonard Coffey, the line-plunger who scored both of Tennessee's touchdowns against Alabama, Jim Fordham, of Georgia, and Charley Holm, of Alabama, are other fullbacks mentioned in the early reports.

Like the backfield, the line has a fine list of names on file, with Gatto heading the parade. There are several other tackles who have caught the eye, notably Ray Miller, of Tulane; Maurice Holdgraf, a Vanderbilt sophomore; Fred Davis, of Alabama; Glenn Cushing, of Tennessee; Marvin Franklin, of Vanderbilt; and George Smith, of Georgia Tech.

Seldom does a sophomore crash the All-Star team, but Tennessee has a pair of first-year guards who have plugged gaps in the forward wall with everything to be asked. They are Bob Suftridge and Ed Molins. Georgia Tech has three fine guards in Junior Anderson, J. L. Brooks and Allen Wilcox.

Alabama's captain, Lewis Bostick, has come through with fine performances in every game. Louisiana State has a star sophomore in J. W. Goree. Howard Johnson, of Georgia, has performed notably.

The center position lists a half dozen players in what looks like a close race to gain that place on the honor roll. Quinton Lumpkin, of Georgia, who polled many votes a year ago, has enhanced his candidacy with excellent play. Bernie Smith, of Tulane, a junior, is another leading candidate, others already receiving mention are Jack Chivington, of Georgia Tech; Carey Cox, of Alabama; Sherman Hinkle, of Kentucky; and Shag Goolsby, of Mississippi State.

Bill Osmanski Won't Start Against Georgia

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 20. (AP)—With his brilliant backfield, Bill Osmanski, sidelined by a leg injury, Holy Cross plans to use a relay of fullbacks against Georgia in Saturday's big intersectional football game here.

Dr. Eddie Anderson announced today's practice that Gus Gerasimos would start in Osmanski's place, but that both Bruno Malinowski, an inexperienced sophomore, and Hilary Renz, a reserve halfback, would see plenty of duty at fullback.

The Crusaders again divided their lengthy practice into two parts, working first against Georgia plays as put on by the scrubs and then rehearsing their own attack in a dummy scrimmage.

P. C. NET CLINIC SEES BITSY PLAY

CLINTON, S. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A hundred tennis players from southern schools and colleges continued to receive personal instruction today from professional players at the third annual tennis clinic at Presbyterian College here moved into its second day.

The instruction was received in classrooms, the gym and on courts, with fundamentals being stressed. Instruction will continue tomorrow.

Exhibition matches were played tonight by Bitsy Grant, a member of last year's Davis cup team, and Carlton Rood, University of North Carolina player who defeated Frank Shields this summer.

FORDHAM SHINES IN GEORGIA DRILL ON TEMPLE GRID

Backfield of Fordham, Matthews, Salisbury, Hise Likely To Start.

By JACK TROY.

EN ROUTE TO WORCESTER, MASS., WITH GEORGIA, Oct. 20. A feeling that Jim Fordham may find himself in the Holy Cross game lends considerable encouragement to Georgia's chances in Saturday's intersectional warfare.

Fordham hasn't run with the power of which he is capable this season. He is, naturally, one of the hardest runners in the Southeastern Conference.

He has a great chance to win a fullback berth on the all-conference eleven and Fordham has been looking more like his old self in workouts this week. Saturday he may cut loose and give the Crusaders a rough afternoon.

The Bulldogs worked out at Temple field in Philadelphia this afternoon.

MATTHEWS STARTS.

They concentrated on their plays, passing and kicking, and it appears that a starting backfield will embrace Salisbury, Matthews, Hise and Fordham.

Hise, who is handicapped at present by a charley horse, is expected to be in top form Saturday. He will handle the passing and kicking while in the game.

Vassar Cate will be sent in the game if and when Georgia has scoring opportunities. The coaches are depending on his great speed to supply material gains in the rushing game.

Captain Quinton Lumpkin is being counted on to play the full 60 minutes against Holy Cross. De Charleroy and Badgett also are counted on for full-time performances.

Coach Hunt will substitute sparingly at other positions in both line and backfield.

IN GOOD SHAPE.

"We are in good shape, with the exception of Charley Williams, tackle, who will be able to play. And I hope we can come out of this game without many injuries. However, we have an open date next week to recuperate."

Wally Butts, who scouted Holy Cross against Carnegie Tech, is looking for a bruising battle. He has warned that Bill Osmanski is a tough runner to stop and that the passes of Eddie Cahill are very tricky.

If the Bulldogs can stop Osmanski, however, half the battle will be won.

Georgia is preparing against any quick touchdown plays the Crusaders may have cooked up. Hunt believes if the Bulldogs can play the Crusaders on even terms for, say, a half, they will have a good chance to win.

"We are going to gamble to win this one. Necessarily, we are going to play reckless football," Hunt added.

The Bulldogs have a couple of trick plays worked up with which they hope to slip over touchdowns on Holy Cross.

It looms a colorful game, with Georgia shooting the works to win and enhance their already estimable intersectional reputation.

TIGERS OUTPLAY SOUTH CAROLINA FOR GREAT WIN

Blocked Punts, Fumbles Spell Defeat for Enright's Team.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 20.—(P)—The Clemson Tigers rolled over the South Carolina Gamecocks, 34 to 12, in the 36th annual renewal of their football rivalry here today but the breaks rather than the vaunted Bengal power made the score so one-sided.

A record crowd of 21,000 sat in a hot autumn sun and saw the Tigers rack up their fifth successive victory in the colorful series.

Clemson scored in the first four minutes, Willis plunging two yards over guard after the Tigers had pounced on a Gamecock fumble on the Bird 31. Pearson converted from placement.

ANOTHER FUMBLE.

Clemson gathered in another fumble a few minutes later on the Gamecock 28, gained four at the line and then Chovan passed to Goins for the second touchdown. Pearson missed a placement for point.

Lowell Bryant rounded left end and ran 70 yards for the third marker and Pearson's placement made it 20-0, with the period little more than half gone.

The charging Clemson line blocked a punt at midfield in the second quarter. Line smashes moved the Tigers to the 22, and Bailey fired a pass to Lancaster for another touchdown, Pearson converting again.

In the third period the South Carolina forwards were unable to hold, and Jackson broke through and blocked I. Henson's kick. Miller, Tiger tackle, grabbing the ball on the Bird 40 and running for a touchdown. Pearson converted and that ended Clemson's scoring.

RUNNING ATTACK.

South Carolina opened a running attack that carried to the 10 early in the fourth period and a Clemson penalty moved play to the five, from where Grygo skirted right end for a touchdown.

Maness, of Clemson, fumbled on the Bird 36 late in the period and Hughes, a substitute back, grabbed the ball before it hit earth and raced 64 yards for a touchdown.

M. V. Brandt Wins East Lake Bogey

M. V. Brandt was alone in winning the regular mid-week blind bogey on the East Lake courses. The winning score was 80.

Second place also was won by a single player, R. A. Neal, one stroke away from the winner.

W. B. Harrison and C. O. Long divided third prize, with T. B. Robertson, M. R. Woodall, W. D. McDowell, Hugh Burgess and Dr. H. W. Ridley following in close order.

TECH'S ACE SOPH KICKER SHOWS PERFECT FORM

Neal (Hawk) Cavette, the Jackets' brilliant sophomore punter, booms a long high one down the field as Tech makes ready to battle the Auburn Tigers Saturday afternoon at Grant field. Cavette averages between 60 and 70 yards in practice. It will be the first conference game of the season for Tech. The superior Auburn attack makes the visitors the favorite. The Jackets will depend on their strong line and tricky offense to pull them through. Auburn won last year's game, 21 to 0, and reports are that the Tigers are much stronger all around this year.

LOUIS DEFENDS TITLE IN 'FRISCO

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(P)—Mike Jacobs announced today Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis would defend his title next April in San Francisco against the winner of a Lou Nova-Tommy Farr-Max Baer elimination series.

Jacobs, New York bound from Pacific coast promotional huddles, said the San Francisco World's Fair committee would underwrite the fight with a $500,000 guarantee.

Pass Defense Again Stressed by Jackets

Fans May See Razzle-Dazzle Plays Saturday; Glenn Cushing Probably Out.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY.

Tech took a last squint at Auburn actions yesterday on a wet, slippery field and planned to close pre-game workouts today polishing up on their own offense.

The Jackets continued to stress pass defense and watched the Red Devils run through a dummy scrimmage using Auburn aerials. Then Coach Bill Alexander ordered the Bees to employ Tiger ground formations and instructed his men on how to stop Speedy Spec Kelly, of the Ireland Kellys, who runs with the speed of a tornado and the shiftiness of a Harlem jitterbug.

Razzle-dazzle may return to Grant field Saturday as Coach Alex has cooked up several forward-laterals for use against the Tigers if the proper time comes. Some time was spent on the aerial game, and more is scheduled for today.

It is certain Allen Wilcox will not be able to take his guard position against the Tigers and Glenn Cushing will probably be out at tackle.

RESERVES PLENTIFUL.

However, reserves are plentiful at these two posts and the loss of Cushing and Wilcox will not be so severe as first seems. Eston Lackey, one of the real heroes of the Notre Dame game, and Charlie Wood, mainstay of last year's squad, will hold down Cushing's post, teaming with Walter Rimmer to stop the powerful Notre Dame off-tackle slashes of Jack Meagher's team.

Junior Anderson, who is the equal of either Wilcox or Shorty Brooks, will replace the former at guard, while Mack Furlow and "Bo-Bo" Richards will be ready for relief duty.

Bobby Beers, one of the fastest men of the Jacket squad, will probably see more service in the Auburn battle than in any other game to date. He is an excellent runner, passer and kicker. He has been working in a backfield combination with Juno Page, Buck Murphy and Billy Gibson and it would not be surprising if this foursome started the game.

REPLACES ECTOR.

Page will likely play a good part of the game at fullback, replacing Howard Ector, who has performed nearly all previous games and badly needs a rest.

Billy Gibson will probably alternate at wingback and tailback during the game. He is a regular at the last position but Beers and Joe Bartlett may divide time at his old post.

Buck Murphy, who has been hampered for a couple of weeks with a leg injury, will return and get a chance to put some of his terrific blocks on the speedy Auburn forwards.

Stopping the lightning Tiger backs has been one of the main

- Southeastern Grid Notes -

MISSISSIPPI.

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 20.—(P)—Coach Harry Mehre, suffering from a severe cold, wore an overcoat today as he sent the University of Mississippi Rebels through a heavy running and passing drill.

Two teams tried a running attack that appeared fair against the Freshmen. In passing, Parker Hall's short tosses to Quarterback Bradley and Fullback Tillman, were consistent.

FLORIDA.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 20.—(P)—Approximately 1,000 students cheered the University of Florida football team today as it worked out on the home field for the last time before meeting Tampa Saturday night.

Leaving tomorrow afternoon, the 'Gators will practice at Clearwater, where they will spend tomorrow night and go to Tampa Saturday afternoon.

Passes were stressed in the light workout. Coach Josh Cody shifted his lineups often.

Various injuries kept several players on the sideline today and threatened to cripple the 'Gators for their last game with a state foe.

ALABAMA.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 20.—(P)—Cooler weather found the Alabama football team displaying new dash and spirit today, when Coach Frank Thomas sent the squad through the first brisk workout of the week.

The Tide still worked without Billy Slemmons, right halfback, hindered by an ankle injury. Perron Shoemaker, who dislocated his wrist in the Tennessee game, continued to watch practice from the sidelines.

VANDERBILT.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Head Coach Ray Morrison declared today Vanderbilt had a "good chance—a fine chance" to beat L. S. U. when the Commodores and the Tigers tie up at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

"If we improve like we have from Saturday to Saturday and start clicking some on the offense, we have a great chance to win. Now that's as far as I want to go," said Morrison.

Vandy football fans, realizing Saturday night's game probably will be the toughest one yet for the Commodores, agreed that was far enough.

NEGRO ELEVENS IN LIGHT DRILLS

Morris Brown College and Morehouse, who meet Saturday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park in their traditional gridiron feud, end a hard week of preparation this afternoon when they go through a light before-game practice session on their respective athletic fields.

The newly equipped Morris Brown band in dress uniform will make its initial bow to Atlanta fans tomorrow. Under the tutelage of Earl Starling, who heads a section of the music department at Morris Brown, this band looms to be a versatile organization.

James Redd, former member of the grid squad, will act as the band's major and will put on a show between the halves and play at intervals during the game.

Morehouse, who have had a band for several years, will head the Maroon cheering section under the leadership of Director James. This game will also be a battle of cheering between the two sections as well as a grudge gridiron affair if it lives true to former years.

Coach W. J. Nicks, of the Wolverines, have been stressing a defense against passes all week, while his assistant, Artis P. Grave, was getting the linemen in shape for the coming fracas. The secondary defense, which did not look so good against the South Carolina A. & M. passes the previous week, has come in for the majority of the work during the gruelling week of preparation.

East Lake Women Open Meet Nov. 7

East Lake's women golfers will renew their former club championship tournament and have set November 7 as the starting date.

The players will be divided into two divisions of 16 each and the losers in each division will form consolation flights.

Handicaps will apply in the second division, while matches in the first group will be from scratch.

Harold Sargent, East Lake assistant professional, will be in charge of the tournament.

worries at Tech all week. Scouts reported Meagher's team was even faster than last year when they defeated the Jackets, 21 to 0.

Plainsmen Brush Up on Pass Attack

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 20.—(P)—Coach Jack Meagher emphasized a passing attack today as Auburn's Plainsmen drilled for the Georgia Tech game, coming up in Atlanta Saturday.

Half the drill period was spent in viewing Tech plays as run by the frosh, and the remainder in the afternoon in offensive work. The first rain in weeks caused the Plainsmen to work out on a muddy field.

The Meaghermen will have a light workout in Atlanta tomorrow, leaving here Friday morning.

Louisiana Renews Moore's Contract

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 20.—(P)—The board of supervisors of the Louisiana State University today renewed for a period of three years the university's contract with Bernal Moore as head football coach.

Moore is now serving his fourth season as football coach on a contract that expires on January 1, 1939. His new contract will expire January 1, 1942.

The board also gave its approval to plans of the athletic department to take between 2,500 and 3,000 students on special trains to Knoxville, Tenn., for the game with the University of Tennessee on October 29.

The athletic department will take as guests the entire cadet corps, the 500 Club and the Purple Jackets, student pep organizations, members of the student council and the staffs of the student publication. It is estimated approximately six trains will be required to handle the students.

SEEKS TO MATCH COTTON, SNEAD

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Henry Cotton, of England, today was invited to come to the United States next year and play Sammy Snead, the hard-hitting West Virginian, in a 72-hole match for the professional "championship of the world."

The offer was cabled by Elmer Ward, of Boston, president of the Goodall Company, and asked Cotton, 1934 and 1937 British open champion, to "name your own terms."

Cody's Wife Unhurt As Car Overturns

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 19.—(P)—Mrs. Josh Cody, wife of University of Florida's head football coach, narrowly escaped injury today when a car she was driving overturned four times near Baldwin, on the Jacksonville highway.

Cody said his wife, en route to Jacksonville and traveling alone, received only a minor cut. The car, he added, was badly damaged.

The 'Gator coach, who went to Baldwin, said witnesses told him the automobile turned over four times but came to rest right side up.

Pope, Going Back East Because of Wife's Death, Sells Wagon to Boone

By DENVER BARDWELL.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE. Jere Boone, young trapper and buffalo hunter, saves Alice Markley from being swept overboard as the side-wheeler Kearsy hits a snag in the Missouri river below Kansas City. The sight of his pretty fiancée in the arms of the buckskin-clad plainsman infuriates Harold Manning, who is on his way west to open a law office. Calling Boone a dirty border ruffian, Harold strikes Jere a stunning blow in the face. Alice tells Harold it is he who is not a gentleman, and asks Jere to escort her to her cabin. They meet Peter McCandless, Indian trader, who is outfitting a wagon train for the emigrants in Harold's party. McCandless, disliking Boone because he sells his buffalo hides in St. Louis for four times what McCandless would pay him, refers to Jere as a squawman and is pleased to note Alice's feeling of revulsion. McCandless, and at his wagon factory below Kansas City, Stubby, his lieutenant, directs the unloading of many heavy boxes of rifles for Indians in exchange for the rifles from the wagons' false bottoms. McCandless has done this before. Jere knows, Elias Hunt, head of the wagon train, McCandless is outfitting, asks Jere to act as guide. After relating, he agrees, wishing to be near Alice, but McCandless says he has engaged Tom Hendon. Jere says Tom is a renegade. Hunt gives permission for Jere to join his wagon to their train but McCandless sends Stubby to buy up options on all wagons.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT X.

He turned to go, but stopped in his tracks as his oldest son came through the front entrance of the stable, crying, "Father, come quick! Mrs. Pope just died in the hotel and Mr. Pope says he's not going on—he's going back east! Mama wants you to come quick!" The youth was greatly excited. Hunt and the two other men ran out. Boone sped after them, seeing a ray of hope in this tragedy.

The two rooms in the hotel in which Alex Pope, holly-eyed Massachusetts farmer, had housed his family were crowded with sympathetic emigrant friends. Some of the women were weeping around the bed in the inner room where the dead woman lay. Mrs. Hunt was the calmest among them, already setting about the sad duties in preparation for the funeral. Deaths along the hard journey had been anticipated by the more thoughtful and quick funerals had been agreed upon.

There were seven of the Pope children. Where Jere Boone went into the front room, ignoring the scowls of the two men who had been in the stables with Hunt, he saw Alice Markley bending over a bed, speaking softly to a girl who lay face downward on the pillows in convulsions of grief. Two more of the older children wept bitterly against the wall. Three little tots, too young to understand the tragedy, clung about the armchair by the window where their father sat with a crying baby cuddled in his arms. As Boone maneuvered his way in toward Alex Pope, a woman took the baby from the dazed man's arms.

Elias Hunt stood before the grief-stricken husband, while he said, "You know how we all feel, Alex. We loved your good woman as a fine, God-fearing, noble Christian and neighbor. We want to keep our agreement to help them that need help. There's too little time to wait while the tears run dry. Our women will help you with the children on the way and a home waits for you in the promised land over west."

Alex Pope slowly raised his tall, emaciated frame from the chair and faced Elias Hunt. "No, Elias," he said firmly. "It's a judgment on me for persuading her 'gainst what she begged me not to do. God knows I only wanted better things for her and the children, but she loved the old home and begged me, with tears in her blessed eyes, not to sell it and go emigrant. I don't know how I'll manage it, but the good Lord will show the way to a penitent soul. I'm going back just soon's I can get to sell my wagon and goods for a little of what I put into 'em."

Jere Boone had now wedged his way in. "Mr. Pope," he said, "how much did you put into your wagon, mules and goods?" "All I had left after the train and boat trip," Pope said without a change in his despairing tone. "All but a few dollars that's gone now for the doctor and hotel here. Why be you askin', my friend? You look like a man of these parts. Might it be you can help me sell my wagon and four mules?"

A moment of dead silence hung in the room. Some of those who had heard that Jere Boone was responsible for this day of added waiting now looked at the plainsman with open hostility. Their thoughts read like an open book in their lowering stares at him. He was about to pick at the bones of a broken man, profiting from their hostility. Boone felt their hostility. He did not see Alice Markley come to the side of Elias Hunt to stand watching him, listening for his next words. "Would four thousand dollars pay you back for everything, Mr. Pope?" Boone asked.

"You pick a time like this to jest with a broken man?" he asked, anger causing his voice to rumble.

There was a wave of murmuring through the room unpleasant to hear.

"What do you mean, Boone?" Hunt demanded. "Speak clearly, or leave the room to the friends of these bereaved people!"

"All this morning," Boone explained quietly, "I went around offering big money for a wagon and draft stock. I wanted a good wagon so bad right away that I offered ten-fifteen times the worth of one so I could get with your wagon train, Mr. Hunt. It means that much to me. Them that didn't need the money as bad as Mr. Pope needs it now wouldn't take it, suspicious all sorts things about my offer. Well, I'm offering Mr. Pope what I would have been mighty glad to pay any time today if he'll sell me his wagon, mules and all the provisions Pete McCandless furnished. I'll give him $4,000 dollars for it out of the money I put in the hotel safe downstairs. Will you take it and turn the property over to me right away, Mr. Pope?"

It took several seconds for the incredulous farmer to recover from the shock. Then, lifting a long arm, he took Jere Boone's hand with talonlike, calloused fingers and said, "If I was usin' cunning lies to deceive you in the deal, my friends, it would be a sin to take your money. But my soul is clean of that sin. Maybe you be the angel of the Lord come to me in my trouble. Take the wagon outfit and provisions. It be all yours, wagon No. 42. With the money I can take my little children back to the home we left and buy it again. If only Martha could be there to welcome me home of even from the fields! There was wistful heartbreak in his low voice.

Alice Markley brushed past Elias Hunt and came to put both hands on the plainsman's buckskin coat sleeves. She looked with tear-filled eyes into the perplexed gaze he bent upon her. In a moment she spoke through tightened, quivering lips, strained hoarseness making her voice little more than a whisper.

"Jere Boone," she said, "you're the kindest, most wonderful man in the world!" She choked with emotion, then added, "God bless you!" and fled to the other room, bumping blindly against people. Boone watched her go, a strange new light of joy softened his dark, strong features.

A few minutes later the money had been transferred to Alex Pope at the hotel counter and a crowd of the emigrant men followed Elias Hunt, Alex Pope and Jere Boone out into the wagon yard. Just beyond the corner of the hotel they met Peter McCandless. "Ah, Mr. Pope," he cried, "I just heard the bad news! It hurt me the kindest, most wonderful man in the world!" She choked with emotion, then added, "God bless you!" and fled to the other room, bumping blindly against people. Boone watched her go, a strange new light of joy softened his dark, strong features.

"You be very kind, Mr. McCandless," Pope's deep bass voice announced. "But a good friend here just paid me $8,000 for the wagon and supplies."

FULTON NATIONAL OPENS NEW BRANCH WITHOUT CEREMONY

Erle Cocke Pleased on First Day as New Accounts Flood in.

The Fulton National Bank's newest branch, on the ground floor of the Candler building, opened for business yesterday without ceremony.

Erle Cocke, vice president in charge of the office, took over his new duties and received congratulations and best wishes from scores of his friends.

"We didn't have time for any formalities," Mr. Cocke said, "so we just went to work. Customers began opening accounts as soon as we opened the doors and they kept us jumping until it was time to close up again."

"It is our hope that this branch will prove a real help to the firms in this section of the city since it is the only major bank outside of the Five Points area. We are here to serve."

Ryburn G. Clay, Fulton president, predicted a bright future for the new office.

"It is our hope that this branch will become an integral part of this section of the city," he said, "and we are anticipating a substantial volume of business. The branch is ready to offer every banking facility and if necessary its present quarters can be expanded."

Bank officials credited newspaper advertising for the institution's steady growth and pointed out that three other branch offices are now in operation. These are situated at Buckhead, Decatur and on Peters street.

CANTON STREETS DUG FOR TRENCHES

Defenders Throw Up Barricades With Enemy Only 20 Miles Away.

HONGKONG, Oct. 20.—(P)—The defenders of Canton tonight were hastily digging trenches and throwing up barricades in the streets, apparently in anticipation of a last-ditch struggle with the Japanese within the South China metropolis.

The 100,000 persons remaining in Canton after the exodus of hundreds of thousands of non-combatants were showing no sign of panic—even with semi-official Japanese reports placing one fast-moving column of invaders within 20 miles of the city.

French forces defending the insular foreign settlement, Shameen, were rushing their own barricades to completion. Canton authorities canceled plans to leave the city.

The Japanese reports indicated the advanced column was risking defeat at the hands of the numerically superior Kwangtung provincial troops by its rapid "back door" campaign against the metropolis.

These advances said the column had side-stepped Chinese forces arrayed near Tsungfa, 30 miles northeast of Canton, and was expecting to strike a lightning blow at the primary defenses of the city by a drive down the Tsungfa highway.

By such a fast advance the Japanese exposed their flanks to Chinese attack. A Japanese communique said the "back door" campaign also had developed a drive toward the Canton-Hankow railway—apparently an effort to cut Canton off from the 11th hour aid from the interior.
